Sign in Japan in 10 Days

By RUSSELL BRINES

MANILA, Aug. 20 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur announced today he would leave "soon" with powerful forces of occupation troops, warplanes and ships for Japan where "the instrument of surrender will be signed within 10 days."

Only adverse weather can delay the formal end of the war, the supreme Allied commander said as he sent Hirohito's delegates flying home with detailed instructions on Allied occupation.

Within 24 hours after their arrival in Manila, the Mikado's emissaries left Nichols Field at 1:03 p. m. today. They left behind full details needed by MacArthur for victorious entry into Japan at the head of ground, air and sea forces.

The envoys were told the date MacArthur and accompanying forces intend to arrive in Japan and instructed to prepare the airfields, harbors and other facilities.

It was expected Lt. Gen. Takashiro Kawabe and the other emissaries would report immediately to government and military officials, perhaps to the Emperor himself.

"We will do the best possible to make sure all arrangements are completed on time," the emissaries said.

It was understood formal surrender will be signed by Gen. MacArthur in or near Tokyo.

Thereafter, a statement by MacArthur said, he will direct the imperial headquarters to issue instructions for unconditional surrender by all Jap commanders abroad of all arms and forces to theater commanders.

It was understood all plans were definitely made during whirlwind conferences here last night and this morning and no further radio instructions would be necessary.

Manila sessions definitely cleared the air, MacArthur's aides said, and made successful occupation of Japan more promising.

None can say, however, whether "disorders" reported today by Tokyo will end before Allied forces arrive.

Land, sea and air occupation of Japan presumably will be conducted as a simultaneous, well-co-ordinated action. Original occupation forces were expected to

Wainwright Off To See Signing

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Aug. 20 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, the tall hero of Corregidor, who was rescued from a Japanese prison camp by a humanitarian team of American parachutists, is due in Chungking shortly and may witness the formal surrender of the forces which held him more than three years.

Among the hundreds of Allied prisoners released by the sudden arrival of the airborne teams carrying relief supplies were Maj. Gen. George M. Parker, Jr., of Portland, Ore., who served under Wainwright in the final days of the battle of the Philippines, and A. W. L. Tjarda Van Starkenborgh Stachouwer, governor-general of the Netherlands East Indies.

Also with Wainwright in Manchuria were Lt. Gen. Arthur Percival, British commander at Singapore when that stronghold was captured in 1942, and Sir Shenton Thomas, governor of Singapore.

The dropping of the humanitarian teams brought a protest from the Jap general staff. The Japs informed Gen. MacArthur the action endangered the smooth cessation of hostilities and asked him to see that no more such "incidents" occurred.

Wainwright, 61-year-old leader of the heroic American and Philippine forces at Corregidor, was a captive of the Japs three years and three months. He was found at a prisoner of war camp at Hsian, 100 miles north of Mukden, by members of one of the six-man teams parachuted into the Japanese-held territory Thursday.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, U. S. commander in China, said Wainwright was well and was being brought to Chungking.

Leaders Washed Up, Japs Told By Tokyo Press

By the Associated Press

Tokyo newspapers, noting "unrest, fear and despair" are rampant in Japan, today editorially told the leaders who plunged the nation into disastrous war they are "washed out."

The Nippon Times was quoted by the Jap Domei Agency, in one of a series of broadcasts, as saying "control of the military" would present to the cabinet of Premier Prince Higashi-Kuni an even greater problem than the maintenance of public order.

Throughout the editorial ran an appeal to the people to remain calm and to carry out Allied terms for peace.

The newspaper Asahi urged the people to "reflect seriously on the grave mistake made in the past of following government leadership blindly" and urged all to participate in the government.

"Only in this way," Asahi added, "can a change in national thought be effected and the Japanese nation get out of the present darkness and despair into a world of hope and construction."

Paralleling Ashi's reference to the "unrest, fear and despair," the Nippon Times observed the instructions given by Hirohito to Higashi-Kuni when the prince was ordered to form a new government "indicate the grave problems" confronting the defeated nation.

"Maintenance of public order will undoubtedly present difficult problems," the Nippon Times said.

"The control of the military presents an even greater problem. But the imperial rescript enjoining strict discipline upon the armed forces makes it certain a greater part of the military will strictly obey the imperial will."

Quisling on Trial; Nazis Turn on Him

OSLO, Aug. 20 (INS)—Vidkun Quisling, former army major who sold Norway out to the Nazis, pleaded not guilty today at the opening of his treason trial.

Quisling

The trial got under way at 10 a. m. with reading of the indictment. Quisling appeared nervous and pale. He held his head low as he entered his not guilty plea.

While the indictment was read Quisling turned his face away.

The prosecutor revealed several imprisoned Nazis testified against Quisling last week in the presence of Norwegians, including Alfred Rosenberg, former Reichsmarshal Goering, Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop, Field Marshal Keitel and Col. Gen. Jodl.

The prosecutor asserted he had vidence showing Quisling urged Hitler to invade Norway long before the German attack in April, 1940. Two important pieces of evidence presented were a letter from Quisling to Hitler in 1939 and the diary of Rosenberg.

Truman Weighs Pearl Harbor

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (INS)—President Truman called his top advisers to the White House today, for a complete discussion of what to do about the sneak Jap attack on Pearl Harbor.

Summoned to the White House were Sec'y of State Byrnes, former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, Navy Sec'y Forrestal and Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff.

Justice Roberts investigated the Pearl Harbor incident early in 1942. Action has yet to be taken on Roberts' report which held the Army and Navy commanders guilty of "derelection of duty."

U. S. to Help Greece Hold Free Election

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—The United States announced today it will send a commission to Greece soon to aid in assuring a free election by secret ballot.

Russia declined an invitation to join in helping to make the Greek voting fully democratic. Britain and France will share responsibility with the United States.

The reason for Russia's aloofness was not disclosed.

Chiang and Red Troops Clash

CHUNGKING, Aug. 20 (AP)—Credible reports today said Gen. Yeh Si-Shan's regular Chinese forces had clashed with Chinese Communists near Taiyuan, Jap-occupied capital of Shansi Province in North China.

The Communists were said to have seized the airfield near Taiyuan and then been ejected by the regulars.

(The movement of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's troops northward into Shansi indicated he might be maneuvering to put forces between Yenan, Communist seat in Shensi province to the west, and the Chinese seaboard with its important cities of Peiping, Tientsin, Tsingtao, Nanking and Shanghai.)

France to Sit In On Jap Peace

LONDON, Aug. 20 (INS)—The French Press Agency said today that the United States has invited France to participate in Japanese surrender negotiations.

The FPA said the French government had accepted the invitation and was sending its reply to President Truman immediately.

Empty Troop Cars To Carry Civilians

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Railroad passenger cars being returned empty after carrying troops now may be used to carry civilian passengers. The office of Defense Transportation authorized today in order to avoid the "deadhead" car movement.

Droves of Japs Give Up to Reds

MOSCOW, Aug. 20 (INS)—Japanese troops in Manchuria and Korea surrendered by the tens of thousands today as the Red army ceased military operations begun ten days ago.

(Domei agency said conferences for a truce agreement in the Manchuria cities of Mukden, Changchun (Hsinking) and Kungchuling between Soviet and Jap military representatives were proceeding smoothly.)

Bevin Raps Regime In 3 Balkan Lands

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Foreign Sec'y Ernest Bevin told Commons today the governments of Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary—all in the Soviet sphere—"Do not represent the majority of the people."

He expressed conviction the crown colony of Hongkong would revert to Great Britain, although he foresaw possible difficulties.

He said the new Labor government would welcome a change in the Spanish regime of Generalissimo Franco but would take no steps to "promote or encourage civil war in that country."

Bevin called on all Poles, military and civilian, to return to their country and said Stalin had assured him Russian troops would be withdrawn from Poland, except "a small number required to maintain communications necessary for Soviet troops in Germany."

A peace treaty for Italy will be discussed soon by the Big Five conference of foreign ministers, Bevin said, expressing hope the "treaty should be made on fair terms" rather than on revenge.

He said the United States, Great Britain and France had undertaken to "assist in supervision of an election" in Greece.

In the first full dress debate of the new government of Prime Minister Clement Attlee, Bevin declared Europe was "a happy hunting ground" for men seeking political power and warned sternly the substitution "of one form of totalitarianism for another" must be prevented.

His remarks about the Balkans came early in his far-reaching review.

Phone Girl Places Hotel Murder Hour

A night telephone operator's report today indicated that between 1 and 1:15 a. m. yesterday a terrific struggle took place in the Hotel Statler room where the nude and strangled body of Army Lt. John M. Falloni, 35, of Beverly, was found little more than an hour later. Mrs. Ruth Fitzgerald, 38, of Florence st., Roslindale, the operator, told police that during those 15 minutes a light flashed twice on her board from the murder victim's room, but that when she plugged in to answer she got no response.

She heard noises the first time, she said, one which sounded like the click of a door closing. Then the receiver was placed back on the hook. A few minutes later a light flashed again, but there was no reply from the officer's room.

Detectives said this information may help in ascertaining the exact time of the crime. They also revealed that fingerprints on two drinking glasses found in the bathroom may provide the principal clue to the slayer.

Lt. John Walkins, acting captain of the Back Bay division who is in charge of the investigation, said police theorized the murdered probably was a guest Falloni had invited to his ninth floor room.

He said a sailor wearing his white uniform had been seen at the hotel bar with Falloni several times during the evening. Police also sought a 21-year-old civilian reported to have gone with Falloni to the officer's room shortly after the victim checked in.

The two fingerprint-marked glasses, each one-third filled with whisky were in the hands of police experts today for fingerprint clues.

Robbery appeared to be the motive for the crime, and the room bore evidence of a struggle. The victim's wallet, in which his family said he habitually carried large sums, his garrison cap and wrist watch were missing.

Dr. Timothy Leary, medical examiner, said death was caused by strangulation. He reported the only signs of violence were finger marks on the neck and a broken blood vessel. The medical examiner scheduled a complete autopsy today.

During Falloni's struggle for his life, tables and chairs in the room were overturned and the bureau was pushed into the middle of the room.

While awaiting the autopsy and fingerprint reports, detectives today sought to trace Falloni's movements from the time he checked into the hotel at 7:08 p. m. Saturday.

They learned the Army officer, a former art teacher at the Lincoln Junior High School in Malden, had arrived at the hotel after a visit at his mother's home in Porter st., Beverly.

Falloni's body was found by Watchman William Shaughnessy as he passed the open door of the room. The lieutenant was lying face down near the foot of the bed. Investigating and learning the officer was dead, Shaughnessy telephoned the room clerk and police were notified.

This marked the second murder of a school official and the third case of violence against them in Boston in the past few months. First was the slaying of Foxboro's school superintendent, Chase MacArthur, bludgeoned to death in Lundin's Turkish baths on Carver st. This slaying is still unsolved.

Second was an attack on George Dawson, a Long Island, N. Y., teacher, beaten in the Hotel Bellevue on Beacon Hill by two sailors. Subsequently two sailors were arrested for this crime, and were later freed.

The murdered man's mother is Mrs. Maria Falloni. With her when he visited Saturday were his two brothers, Albert and Paul Falloni, and two sisters, Mrs. Anthony Furoro and Mrs. Theresa Petronzio, all of Beverly.

State Calls Bus Strike Leaders

While 8000 stranded commuters took taxis or begged rides, the State Board of Arbitration today issued summonses for union officials in the strike which for two days has tied up bus lines of the Rapid Transit, Inc., in Winthrop, Saugus and Revere.

Charles E. Flynn, president of the line, visited the board today and was told by Comr. Charles H. Cole summonses had been sent and it was expected union officials would appear for a hearing in a few hours.

However, one official, John Taatjes, president of the local union of the Amalgamated Ass'n of Street Railway and Motor Coach Workers, said the union had nothing to talk over with the state board.

The second day of the strike found Winthrop commuters hiking two miles to Orient Heights, accepting rides or motoring in the town's police patrol and trucks.

The men struck, according to Harris E. Albert, attorney for the union, because the state board did not settle 14 issues. Five of these matters were referred back for further study by the company and the union.

Juicy Steaks After Wreck

BEAUMONT, Tex., Aug. 20 (INS)—An exclusive residential section enjoyed juicy steaks today as the result of a train derailment in which cattle cars were wrecked and 20 prime steers were killed.

One steer which headed for the suburbs knocked off a horn against a tree, went berserk, charged an auto load of women and children and sent spectators shinning up trees.

Police Chief Pollock machine-gunned it to death. Returning after assisting in rounding up the other runways, Pollock said meat-hungry residents apparently descended on the carcass in droves. There wasn't a bite of meat left.

Slain Victory-Night Girl Sealed in Well Still Alive

HADDON HEIGHTS, N.J., Aug. 20 (AP)—The unclad body of a brown-haired girl who was apparently attacked and slain in a victory celebration Friday night was found yesterday in a cistern in a lonely section of this town.

Police said the girl had been attacked, probably knocked unconscious and then tossed alive into the cistern, where she died of suffocation.

The attack, police said, presumably took place in tangled underbrush about 40 feet from the cistern. The slayer, they theorized, dragged her to the well, lifted a 200-pound iron trap door, dropped the body and then replaced the door.

In the underbrush, a red skull cap bearing the words "Let's Get It Over" and "It's Over now" was found. Such caps were sold in victory celebrations. Also discovered were quantities of confetti, a blood-stained undergarment, a pair of orchid evening slippers and a red feather.

An autopsy disclosed the girl, who Coroner Edward C. Gardner said was about 24, had borne children.

"She had beautiful brown hair, shoulder length. She had perfect teeth," Gardner said.

The body bore numerous bruises and the lower lip was split as if from the blow of a fist.

Order Gas, Fuel Oil Price Cut

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Ceiling prices on gasoline and fuel oils will be reduced soon in the 17 states comprising the Eastern Seaboard area and the District of Columbia, the OPA announced today.

Reductions will range from six-tenths of a cent to 1.2 cents a gallon for gasoline; one to one and one-half cents a gallon for kerosene, heating oils and Diesel fuel, and from to 15 to 30 cents a barrel for heavy industrial fuel oils.

In general, these amounts represent increases in ceiling prices granted during the war to help defray the extra cost of transporting petroleum products to the East Coast area, due to abanonment of tanker transportation.

Ceiling price increases, however, represented only part of the extra costs of wartime transportion. The balance has been paid by the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The OPA said the RFC would continue to make compensatory adjustments for a limited time.

Ceiling reductions at the refinery and wholesale levels, including tank wagon, will become effective Sept. 1. Reductions at retail probably will become effective later in September.

Ouster of El Trustees Urged

Charging the Boston El trustees with "neglect of duty and loose handling of the public's affairs," Rep. Philip McMorrow of Dorchester today urged Gov. Tobin to demand their resignations or remove them from office.

McMorrow said he told the Governor the proposed zone fare increase from 5 to 7½ cents was "unjust, unwarranted and an outrage."

"The Governor told me the Attorney-General's office was watching the legal end of the proposed fare increase and said he wanted time to consider the whole matter," McMorrow told reporters.

McMorrow said Gov. Tobin was "astonished" when told that the El trustees voted $10,000 contributions to a public charity in 19433 and 1944. McMorrow said the officials "had no legal right to give away that money which should have been used to reduce the deficit."

He urged patrons of the El to contact their State senators and representatives to protest the proposed fare raise.

Navy Steps Up Discharges

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (INS)—The Navy announced that six new separation centers will be set up within 10 days to speed the discharge of 327,000 veterans from service during the next four months.

Navy Secy. Forrestal also revealed that the Navy and Marine Corps draft quota for September was cut from 22,000 to 13,000.

V. Adm. Randall Jacobs, chief of personnel, said veterans now are being discharged in five separation centers and that 11 would be in operation within 10 days, with the total boosted to 18 by September, with an ultimate discharge capacity of 500,000 per month.

Truman to Back Full Employment Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Tdo Senators backing what they call the full employment bill saw President Truman today and said he was "strong" for the measure and wanted quick action on it.

Hearings on the legislation resume tomorrow before the Senate banking committee, with Gen. Omar Bradley, new veterans' administrator, as first witness.

Won't Know Retail Cut Here Until Sept. 1

Boston's Regional OPA officials stated today there was no definite way of determining the exact retail price reduction for Greater Boston, Massachusetts and the New England states on gasoline and fuel oil until the reductions are made on the wholesale level Sept. 1.

Milk Restrictions Off Except on Heavy Cream

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—More milk will be available for civilians under an order issued today by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson suspending sales quotas on milk, light cream, buttermilk and chocolate dairy drinks.

The action removes the quota restrictions under which milk distributors in the 138 largest cities of the nation have been operating since the fall of 1943. Supplies of whipping cream are not affected.

Original imposition of sales quotas was taken to avoid rationing of milk, a highly perishable product.

10,000 in State Seek Jobless Cash

More than 10,000 persons, most of them women, made suddenly jobless by military production cutbacks, have filed applications for unemployment compensation in Massachusetts, Robert E. Marshall, director of the Employment Security Division announced today.

Marshall said the majority of the applications were filed in large industrial centers—Boston, Worcester, Springfield, Taunton and Brockton.

In Boston alone today, more than 2000, three fourths of them women, crowded the division's Beacon st. office in a steady stream to file for compensation and register for other work and Marshall said the rush was expected to increase in the next few days.

Informed of the rush, Gov. Tobin was considering the possibility of an immediate opening of extra branch offices.

"The important thing is to help them get jobs quickly and still take care of our returning veterans," Tobin said.

The Governor plans to confer tomorrow with federal employment officials on the possibilities of the State taking over the unemployment compensation work from the government at an early date.

"This is only the beginning," declared Walter Delay, an official of the division. "It's going to be heavier than this, although this is the busiest day we've had since before the war."

At Hartford, Ct., announcement was made that the employment service office would be removed tomorrow to the huge State Armory because present quarters were inadequate to handle throngs applying for unemployment compensation and registering for other work.

More than 1000 application forms were handed out in a half-hour today, mostly to workers at the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft plant, closed for a week; the Colt Firearms plant, and the Royal Typewriter Co., which has been making machine-gun parts.

Similar scenes were being enacted in other large New England cities as thousands continued to join the ranks of those who in the past several days have found themselves jobless as a result of war production cutbacks.

Opportunity for many losing jobs in war plants to gain early employment was seen in a call issued today by Public Works Commr. Herman A. MacDonald for 100 qualified engineers to start work at once on highway and airport projects.

MacDonald said engineers who applied and were accepted at the Public Works Building, 100 Nashua st., would go to work at once on projects which will provide employment for thousands.

Recognizing the need for haste in arranging orderly reconversion, New England governors are meeting here at 6:30 p. m. in an emergency session called by Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin, of Connecticut.

Area directors of major federal war agencies will join in the conference to discuss readjustments for peacetime production. Among subjects listed for discussion are contract terminations, price controls, food supply and distribution, employment dislocations, surplus government property disposal, reallocation of industrial materiel and labor-industry relations.

The General Electric Co. in Lynn today laid off 8000 workers as a result of cancellation of nearly 1000 subcontracts for materials which went into finished products at their Lynn works.

Detroit's Jobless Estimated at 150,000

DETROIT, Aug. 20 (INS)—Long lines of jobseekers waited at employment offices today as unemployment rose to 150,000—an increase of 75,000 since the Jap surrender.

The Western Union office said 150 employes have been added to the telegraph company's staffs since Thursday because of the steady stream of government telegrams announcing contract cancellations.

White Collar Men Told Lid Is Off Raises

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—The government hastened today to give white collar workers and all others earning salaries the same good news—officially—already given wage earners: the lid's about off on raises.

The only halter the government will hold on increases is this: They can be given where the increase does not mean an increase in prices, too.

Losing no time in pushing reconversion, President Truman called into a White House conference John W. Snyder, reconversion director, and a special advisory committee on problems involved in the change-over to peace.

The score as America entered its first full week of peace:

1—The nation will have one of its biggest Christmas shopping seasons.

2—President Truman will continue wartime controls where needed.

3—He will abolish wartime agencies quickly, where he can.

4—OPA still is aiming at lower clothing prices; they may come by Christmas.

5—The government won't stop cashing of war bonds, but it wants people to hold on to them.

6—Lend-lease is being shut off.

$425,000,000 Ship Contracts Cancelled

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Maritime Commission announced today cancellation of $425,000,000 in contracts covering construction of 135 ships and three contracts for special military equipment.

The cancelled contracts covered 35 coastal cargo ships, 42 Victory cargo ships, 24 small tankers for lend-lease to Great Britain, four Liberty ships being converted to aircraft repair ships, eight military type Victories, eight tankers, five large military transports of the C-4 type, six refrigerator ships, and three large passenger ships of the P-2 type.

New England Shipbuilding Corp. at South Portland, Me., loses contracts for 12 lend-lease tankers and four aircraft repair ships.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—WPB Chairman J. A. Krug today asked all contractors to cancel with "utmost speed" all orders for materials no longer needed to fill military contracts.

He said this was necessary to speed the flow of scarce materials into expanding civilian production.

Estelle Taylor Divorces Small

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20 (AP)—Movie Actress Estelle Taylor was granted a divorce today from Film Producer Paul Small for mental cruelty.

The former wife of Jack Dempsey told Judge Jesse Stephens that Small was abusive, allowed her little money and required her to do all the housework and gardening.

Beacon Hill Breaks Admitted by Boy, 13

A 13-year-old South End boy, who admitted breakinf into two Beacon Hill homes, stealing $79 and spending most of it on amusements at Revere Beach, was found guilty of delinquency today in juvenile court and his case was continued to Friday for disposition. Police said the boy was on parole from Lyman School.

Auto Toll Soars

By the Associated Press

The nation's traffic death toll mounted to 59 yesterday and Saturday, the first weekend since gas rationing ended and most states lifted the 35-mile-per-hour speed limit. The unofficial total of reported traffic deaths for the previous week-end was 15.

Dick Powells Start Honeymoon Cruise

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 20—The long expected marriage of June Allyson and Dick Powell took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Green in the presence of a few friends. When Dick called up to give me the news, he said:

"Well, you were right, we are being married. We both found we had a few days off from our jobs and so we are taking advantage of our vacation."

Superior Judge Edward Brand officiated at the ceremony. Jane Wilkie was bridesmaid. Morgan Maree, the bridegroom's business manager, was best man.

The bride, wearing a gray suit with gold accessories and a corsage of yellow orchids, was given in marriage by Louis B. Mayer, head of her studio. She carried a prayer book which has been in her family for many years.

The bride and bridegroom are spending their honeymoon on Dick's boat, which has been anchored in the harbor since the beginning of the war. It's the first time he has been able to take the boat out, and they planned to cruise.

30 Extra Taggers Pep No-Fix Drive

Police today began a parking drive in downtown Boston, ending immunity extended during the victory celebration.

Deputy Supt. James J. Hinchey sent 30 taggers into the district and equipped every regular traffic officer in the area with a generous supply of no-fix tags.

"We don't mean to be unreasonable and we don't want the motoring public to be unreasonable," Hinchey said. "But here are three things we cannot tolerate: Overtime parking, parking in restricted streets and double parking."

So, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Motorist, you have fair warning.

Disabled Nantucket Boat Resumes Trips

The steamer Martha's Vineyard resumed normal service between New Bedford and Woods Hole and the islands of Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket with the 2:30 p. m. trip today. Thus, complete service with two boats will again be provided by tomorrow.

Race Track Riot Cases Continued to Sept. 10

Cases of four defendants, arrested after the Aug. 11 riot at Suffolk Downs resulting from the disqualification of the seventh race winner, were continued until Sept. 10 today in East Boston district court because one of the quartet still is hospitalized.

Wilbur Cowan, 34, of Colony rd., West Springfield, who was clubbed by two police officers when he climbed into the stewards' stand to protest the disqualification, is still at City Hospital, according to his counsel, former Lt. Gov. Francis E. Kelly.

Kelly told Judge Charles Brown he had visited Cowan at the hospital this morning and found he was suffering from dizzy spells and probably would be confined there at least two more weeks. He suffered head and scalp lacerations and concussion of the brain.

Mrs. Barbara Cowan, wife of the injured man, was present in the courtroom.

Later she said she had come to Boston on the day of the riot to bring her daughter to the Lahey Clinic. She met her husband later at the track and was in the stands when he climbed into the stewards' stand.

Judge Brown ordered the case continued until Sept. 10 on the suggestion of Capt. Flank Sliney of the East Boston station and set the same date for hearing on the cases of the other three defendants, Alfred Pages, 36, Shawmut ave., South End; Orlando Del Russo, 44, Falcon st., East Boston, and Walter Sauer, 18, Harvard st., Cambridge.

Bail of the trio, which had been reduced from $500 to $100 last week, remained at that figure and, on plea of Kelly, Judge Brown set Cowan's bail at $200. Cowan was charged with inciting to riot and assault and battery on Patrolmen Salvatore Angineri and John McDonnell.

Pages is charged with inciting to riot and malicious destruction of property while charges of inciting to riot and disturbing the peace have been made against Del Russo and Sauer.

OPA Charges New Meat Ring

Cracking down on a new "black market meat ring," OPA today filed complaints here in U. S. District Court, seeking injunctions against nine cattle dealers, slaughterers and market owners in the New Bedford-Fall River area.

Spokesmen for the regional OPA office said the probe of conditions was continuing and additional injunctions would soon be sought against many retailers and restaurant owners.

Officials charge the nine men failed to keep adequate records.

Peanut In Lung Kills Malden Boy

A peanut, lodged in his right lung, caused the death of 22-months-old Raymond Byer of Pleasant st., Malden, it was disclosed today.

The child was tricken with a high fever lat Thursday and later was taken for treatment at Malden Hospital. It was then X-rays revealed the youngster had sucked a peanut into his lung.

Doctors at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary vainly performed two operations, using the most modern of scientific aids.

Funeral services were held today with the Rev. D. J. O'Connell of Sacred Heart Church, Malden, officiating.

Soldier Dad Puts Crippled Child In Hospital Here

Hopeful that his cripped daughter may obtain medica aid which wi restore her to full health, Lt. Travis T. Bryan, Jr., of Pleasant st., Malden, today took Diana, 3, to an undisclosed hospital for examination by a famed surgeon.

Diana and her father were accompanied by Mrs. Helen Stevens, social worker for the Greater Boston Community Fund. The child's plight was brought to public attenion by Lt. Bryan after unsuccessful efforts to place her in an institution where she would receive the specitl care she requires.

She is suffering from spastic paralysis incurred at birth. Bryan on leave from his Army duties, is due t oreturn to Texas tomorrow.

Bay State Polio Cases Increase

Infantile paralysis cases for July in Massachusetts were 35, compared with 23 in July, 1944, according to the State Department of Public Health.

Total cases reported for the year up to Aug. 1 were 119 as compared with 100 in a similar period last year. In 1944 436 cases were reported.

Law's Bite on 2 Lacking Teeth

Traced through their upper teeth—or lack of them—Herbert Melzian, 46, of Allston st., and Rosemary Logue, 33, of North Russell st., both West End, were found guilty in Municipal court today or relieving Peter Van Vleet, of Framingham, of $150 and a $28 watch last Aug. 8.

Special Officers Patrick Lally and Dennis Mahoney arrested the pair after tracing them down on Van Vleet's meager description that neither had any upper front teeth.

Van Vleet said he met the couple in a Bowdoin sq. cafe while he was celebrating winning some $175 at Suffolk Downs. He said they took him to a house in Somerset st., gave him a drink, and when he woke up, they, his money and watch were gone.

Judge Jennie Loitman Barron continued the case to Thursday.

Widow Settles Spanos Will Suit

Amicable settlement of the legal tussle over the estate of Peter Spanos, wealthy Boston restauranteaur, between his widow, Mrs. Pauline Spanos of Bowditch st., Jamaica Plain, and her brother-in-law, Samuel Spanos of Lexington, was disclosed today in Suffolk Probate Court documents.

The pair, who filed cross actions seeking the other's removal as co-executor of the Spanos estate, have resigned and Judge Robert Gardiner Wilson, Jr., has ordered each to file an accounting.

Atty. Willard P. Lombard of Wakefield has been appointed by Judge Wilson administrator of the estate and has filed a bond showing it consists of real estate valued at $35,000 and personal property worth $86,000.

In his will, Spanos, owner of three restaurants and tavers in the South Station area, left bequests of about $6000 to his sisters in Greece and the ramainder of his estate in trust for his widow and three children, naming the widow and his brother Samuel executors. He died Dec. 2.

A few months later trouble developed between the two executors and each sought to the other's removal, charging failure to cooperate. Judge Wilson took the case under advisement in June.

4 Allied Powers Hoist Flags at Berlin HQ

BERLIN, Aug. 20 (AP)—Flags of the four Allied occupying powers were hoisted formally before the Allied control council headquarters here today.

The ceremony preceded the regular council meeting and was witnessed by Gen. Eisenhower, Soviet Marshal Zhukov, British Field Marshal Montgomery, and Lt. Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig, French commander-in-chief in Germany.

IN BABY TANGLE—Mrs. Irene King and Eugene "Peewee" Thomsen of Denver, Col., now deny Mrs. King's forthcoming child is a "test tube" baby as she had written her husband, Pvt. Jesse King, just back from 19 months in Europe. Her husband sued for divorce. Thomsen, who now acknowledges paternity, hopes to marry the expectant mother when the divorce is final.

Filene's Automatic Bargain BASEMENT AIR CONDITIONED

"DOG DAYS" GET THE COOL BRUSH-OFF

Heady with heat and humidity — sticky, muggy atmosphere becoming all-engulfing — even Boston's famous East Wind fails to put in an appearance— then there's one COOL-solution—step inside the nearest Filene door and sweltering spirits are quickly revived with wonderful COOL air-conditioning. Weather is a favorite subject with us—like Mark Twain we always seem to be talking about it— in fact we're quite weather vain because our ventilating system keeps the weather in one vein here all Summer long—COOL—COOL-er—COOL-est—depending on how the thermometer registers outside. The hotter it gets outside—the cooler it is air-conditionally speaking. Wonder what Mark would have said about weather made with air-conditioning—no matter how the Yankee Weather Quipper would have described it—he couldn't help but be COOL-plimentary—for Filene's don't even "have to wait a minute for the weather to change"— all Summer long it's COOL. If you want to avoid wilted personalities—droopy spirits —perspiring brows and exhaustion from heat—then Filene's Basement is the one store to adopt all Summer where dog days get the continual COOL brush-off and the chore of Summertime shopping is a delightfully COOL pleasure in refreshing air-conditioned comfort!

Queen Mary in N. Y. Tomorrow With 14,809

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Queen Mary and three other transports are scheduled to arrive tomorrow at the New York Port of Embarkation with nearly 17,000 American troops, including most of the 30th Division.

The 30th Division units are aboard the Queen Mary, carrying 14,809 troops.

Other transports are: the Hawaiian Shipper, diverted from the Pacific, with 1813 troops; the Occidental Victory, 29; and the Sarah J. Hale, two.

Troops on the Queen Mary will go to Camp Kilmer, N. J., and the others to Camp Shanks, N. Y.

5200 Gay GIs Land

Still celebrating V-J Day—and with plenty of reason—more than 5200 cheering Army veterans reached Commonwealth Pier today aboard the Navy transport General Richardson.

The glee began when first announcement was made Wednesday of the Jap surrender and reached its height Friday when the boys, all scheduled for invasion of Japan, learned the Richardson received orders to proceed to Boston.

"We were bound for the Panama Canal and then on to the Pacific," Maj. Stuart Cox of Somerset disclosed. "We sailed from Marseilles and were a day and a half out from Gibraltar when the victory news was received.

"Then we got the news Pacific orders were off and we were coming home on furlough.

On board were three combat engineer outfits and a number of medical and quartermaster units, along with five Red Cross workers and 100 Army nurses.

First of the nurses to step ashore was Capt. Cecile Petit of New Bedford, home after five months in Germany.

Others included Lt. Agnes Horgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Horgan of Canton, and Lt. Christine Cox of Holliston.

Included among the home-comers on the Richardson were:

Capt. John J. Sheil of Washington st., Dorchester; T4 Anthony Cajozzi of Brockton, Sgt. Thomas Fahey of Leicester, T5 Morris Carron of Allen st., West End; Sgt. Harold Yarnish of Old Colony blvd., South Boston; Cpl. John O'Day of Holyoke st., Cambridge; PFC Joseph Mahoney of Rangeley rd., Watertown; Cpl. Irving Babener of Harvard st., Dorchester, and Cpl. Craig Scott of Park st., Belmont, whose father, David Scott, owner of the Boston Towboat Co., took his tug, the Ares, on a special welcome mission to greet his son.

Meanwhile, two other transports arrived at the Army Base. The Jonathan Trumbull brought home 742 military personnel, of whom 28 are from New England, while the Rubin Looksley had 55 passengers on board.

Among those on the Trumbull were:

PFC Albert Lavecchio of Gove st., East Boston; Pvt. Frank Occhipinti of School st., Revere; Lt. Edward Bendekgey of Shawmut ave., South End; Cpl. Raffaele J. Restucci of Endicott st., North End; Sgt. Daniel J. Feudergast of Common st., Waltham, and Sgt. Anthony Frenieo of Camden st., Lynn.

Hunt Discharged Yank in Ontario Terror Murders

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 20 (AP)—A hunt for a sadistic killer, blamed for at least two knife slayings here in 10 days, was intensified today by more than 100 Windsor policemen and provincial authorities.

Windsor residents locked themselves in their homes in fear the killer would strike again. Police worked 12-hour shifts in the hunt for the slayer, called by Det. Ins. Duncan MacNabb a "sadist of the worst type—a maniac."

Tension was heightened by discovery of a note scrawled on the wall of a downtown public building and signed "Civilian-Sergeant-Sergeant." It said the writer was discharged from the U. S. Army for killing a German prisoner, was known as "Slasher Evans," would never be caught and would choose a girl for his next victim. It bragged that the killer had talked to police at the scene of the latest slaying.

Police belived the note might be the work of a crank, but it was communicated to U. S. authorities for further investigation.

First victim was Frank Scieglinski, 56, mechanic, whose body, slashed six times, was found in a vacant lot near the center of town. The second victim, found in the same lot, was Sgt. Hugh B. Price, 45, overseas veteran.

Police said there was no apparent connection between these killings and the hammer slaying here early Thursday of William Davies, 67, a garage night watchman.

Hub Men Held In Gold Ring

Sought on fugitive warrants by federal officials in Bangor, Me., in connection with an alleged gold selling conspiracy, Morris L. Bellar, 33, of Nazing st., Roxbury, and Wong Git On, 23, of Tyler st., Boston, today were arraigned before U. S. Commr. William C. Rogers.

They pleaded not guilty to conspiracy charges and were released in nominal bail for hearing Nov. 6 in Bangor.

Authorities said the pair used Cpl. Gin S. Lum, 23, Army Transportation Corps flight steward, as a "go-between." Lum was on flight duty between Presque Isle, Me., and Europe, federal officials said.

Abp. Spellman's Address at Guam

GUAM, Aug. 20 (AP)—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman, celebrating pontifical mass here today at the Twentieth Air Force headquarters' new chapel, said:

"Victory in war is something concrete. Victory in peace must be won every day."

He paid taribute to the part played in the war by the air forces and urged recognition for the problems of peace, concluding by saying, "We must realize normalcy won't return at onuce."

He was assisted by Chaplain Thomas J. Hession, formerly of Newark, N. J., and now Catholic chaplain of the Twentieth Air Force.

Toot Trouble

CHICAGO, Aug. 20 (AP)—David Walanka was aroused from his sleep by the prolonged blowing of an auto horn. He complained to police who found a shortcircuited horn in a car parked near Walanka's home. Then they looked for the car's owner.

It was Walanka's own auto.

Deadly Nazi Secret Weapons Revealed

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

WITH BRITISH FORCES IN GERMANY, Aug. 20 (delayed by censor) (AP)—The Germans were experimenting with huge bazookas as field artillery and aircraft cannon when the war ended and had perfected a new defense against bombers.

The fantastic weapons Hitler had for a last try for victory were taken off the secret list today by American and British technicians.

Germany had made great strides perfecting guns without recoil. They were based on the bazooka principle of eliminating recoil through ejection of gases from the rear of the barrel.

Several giant bazookas with 11-inch bore were found. These could have been used as artillery pieces or mounted on large aircraft. Shells weighed half-a-ton and had terrific penetrating power. The weapon was designed primarily for air attacks on battleships.

A monstrous cannon of this type was found on the channel coast trained toward London. Gases could hurl shells 120 miles. At intervals inside the huge barrel were booster points, through which charges of gas could be sent to increase shell velocity. There was no indication the terror weapon was used. The Germans, anxious to get it mounted, misjudged the angle of levation, greatly reducing the intended range.

The defense against bombers was by the use of planes Americans called "Foo Fighters." These were tiny jet-propelled craft "buttoned" to the base of steel poles and shot vertically into the air at the tremendous speed of rockets. Pilots inside guided the planes at 550 miles an hour, intercepting bomber formations with sprays of rocket shells fired from the nose of the craft.

After the pilot had used his two minutes of fuel, he pulled a lever and was catapulted out to float to safety by parachute. Simultaneously, the tail of the plane dropped off, releasing another parachute which brought the craft gently to earth, where the Germans could salvage the jet units. Chains of stations for jet craft were stationed all along the bomber routes.

Another German weapon was the spider bomb—a winged missile fired from planes and electrically guided to targets by a thread of wire attached to the bomb and the parent craft. Some spider bombs were operated 15 miles from the parent plane, allowing the pilot to remain at a safe distance while attacking bombers.

The Germans also developed a superspeed U-boat powered by ingolene, powerful propellant used in V-2 pocket bombs.

They also perfected a "splash bullet" which was used with deadly and horrible effect.

Speedboat Bandits Rob Park of $10,000

BOB LO ISLAND, Ont., Aug. 20 (INS)—Four armed bandits in a fast speedboat today invaded Bob Lo Island Amusement Park in the lower Detroit river across from Amhertburg, Ont., and escaped with more than 510,000.

Rena Morgan, Lundigan Wed

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 20—Marine Cpl. Bill Lundigan, who just returned from the South Pacific, was married to Rena Morgan Saturday night at the Church of St. Simon and St. Jude in Huntington Beach.

The son of Mr and Mrs. Michael Lundigan, the bridegroom was a Warner Brothers' actor before joining the Marines, and will return to them as soon as he is discharged.

Miss Morgan is the adopted daughter of the late Helen Morgan. Her romance with Bill began before he went overseas.

Overtime Pay For 2 Holidays

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—President Truman today ordered time and a half be paid all war workers on the Job last Wednesday and Thursday.

His executive order did not say, however, whether workers who took holidays on the two days following surrender would be paid for time off. Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach said earlier the

The White House said originally Aug. 15 and 16 would be legal holidays for overtime pay purposes, then retracted the statement. Considerable confusion resulted.

V-J Day—which probably will be the day Japan signs surrender terms—will not be a legal holiday.

Hudson Cars Off Line in 10 Days

DETROIT, Aug 20 (AP)—Hudson Motor Car Co. announced today its 1946 model passenger cars will begin rolling from assembly lines in 10 days.

To date only the Ford cMtor Car Co has disclosed its assembly lines in production although Nash and Oldmobile have announced details of postwar vehicles.

U-BOATS STILL MISSING

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Two German submarines still are unaccounted for following the surrender of the U-977.

CED Sees Postwar Jobs for 54 Million

NEW YORK, Aug. 20—An optimistic picture of the industrial outlook in the United States during the coming year, with jobs for nearly everybody, was painted by the Committee for Economic Development.

In a report issued at its office here, the CED declared that American industry is preparing to boost production 41.6 per cent above its 1939 output within a year, assuring more jobs than in pre-war days.

This is expected to reach a peak of $80,518,000,000 civilian goods output, and together with other employment demands wil provide work for 54,000,000.

T. L. MacGowan, manager of market research for the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., who, as chairman of the CED marketing committee, wrote the report, derided the "almost hysterical" predictions of unemployment during the reconvesicn period.

Reconversion unemployment need have no permanent bad effects, he said, if the "frightening tone" of some predictions "does not cause consumer and business confidence to deteriorate."

The survey was based on estimates from 1406 manufacturers and 158 trade associations.

MacGowan accepted estimates of the prospective postwar labor force as 60,000,000, with an expectation of 3,500,000 in the armed services and 2,500,000 unemployed forming a "permissible labor float."

Manufacturers alone, the report said, are prepared to employ 13,469,000 to produce $80,518,000,000 worth of goods from September, 1946, to September, 1947, compared with 10,078,000 in 1939 the last peace production year—to produce $56,843,000,000.

If 1939 ratios of manufacturing employment to total employment hold good, the report said, the total of civilian employes in 1947 should be close to 54,000,000.

The report predicted that the postwar period will pass through three phases: 1—The period of transition to peacetime operations; 2—The period in which industry will try to catch up with accumulated demand; 3—The final period when there will be a switch to a self-sustained basis and during which jobs will depend on the current demand and current income.

The auto industry, according to the CED report, is expected to lead the parade in the postwar reconversion era with a 75.8 per cent gain over its 1939 output. Transportation equipment, other than autos, will increase production 74.3 per cent, the survey indicated.

Bonus Checks After Sept. 1

The first state bonus checks will be mailed shortly after Sept 1, declared Deputy State Treas George Killgoar today as the flow of applications for the $100 gratuity continued unabated.

Killgoar said the checks would be sent by registered mail to all veterans whose applications were completed by the first of the month. He said more than 600 completed forms have been filed up to today.

He reminded servicemen and women they must file certificates from their home town assessors stating they were residents for at least six months prior to entering the service.

War Surpluses Go on Sale Friday

The first sale of surplus war materials since the end of the war will start here Friday, the Navy announced today.

A variety of goods from the Navy Material Redistribution Center at Lonsdale, R. I., will be sold to bidders at the Navy's redistribution and disposal office at 421 Summer st.

Inspection may be made at Lonsdale. Material ranges from engine parts, plumbing and heating supplies to lenses, goggles, brazing rods and safety devices.

Ask Suppression Of Atomic Bomb

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—A group of 34 educational and religious leaders has asked President Truman to stop production of the atomic bomb and seek commitments by all nations outlawing its use.

The leaders, asserting that they acted only as individuals, issued a joint statement in which they declared:

"We believe we have committed an atrocity of a new magnitude, and though technically it may not contravene the recognized rules of civilized warfare, in essence it violates every instinct of humanity."

A-Bomb Stirs Fears of G. B. S.

LONDON, Aug. 20 (INS)—George Bernard Shaw declared of the atomic bomb today that "like the sorcerer's apprentice, we may practice our magic without knowing how to stop it."

In a letter to the London Times, Shaw added there is one possible consequence "that would end our difficulties."

"What we have just succeeded in doing at enormous expense," he said, "is making an ounce of uranium explode like a star. At any moment heavier elements than uranium and as much more explosive than uranium is to gunpowder may be discovered."

This is Tomorrow

The tomorrow we have been fighting and bleeding for—sweating for—praying for...

The tomorrow that seemed once might never come...

The tomorrow far off—the future day to look forward to...

Suddenly we are dazed like a man who has been carrying a heavy burden a long time, feels it lifted and forgets at first to stand erect.

Awe and gratitude, relief and hope, remembering and tears—we are too numb yet to feel.

But now we Americans have work to do...

Our sciences have grown by leaps and bounds during the war.

Our next big job is to apply these sciences to their real purpose—the progress and happiness of America and the world.

This is tomorrow. The time to begin.

CHURCHILL'S SPEECH

By BENJAMIN DE CASSERES

THE MASTERLY SPEECH that Winston Churchill delivered in the House of Commons is of profound interest to all Americans, for history has now decreed that what affects England likewise affects America, and vice versa.

First in importance was his warning of the threat that Communist Russia presents to the world because of her seizure of countries in Eastern Europe and his frank demand that Britain and America hide the secret of the atomic bomb from Russia.

He referred specifically to Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia when speaking of the blackout of news.

He repeated what the Hearst papers asserted nearly three weeks ago when he said:

"Guarded accounts of what is happening had filtered through. But it is not impossible that TRAGEDY ON A PRODIGIOUS SCALE is imposing itself behind the iron curtain which at present DIVIDES EUROPE IN TWAIN."

Was it for this purpose that we have sacrificed hundreds of thousands of the lives of our men—that Europe shall be half slave-state and the other half armed to the teeth to prevent slave-state propaganda from Moscow?

AS TO THE ATOMIC BOMB, Russia should not be let into the secret, for Stalin and his slave-state are the one threat today against the way of life of both England and America.

All the more so as England is today, temporarily at least, under the rule not of traditional-minded Englishmen but of a so-called British labor cabal, whose policies are Communistic.

That Churchill knows better than any other living statesman that Russia contemplates the Communistic conquest of the world is evidenced by the actions of the Chinese Communists.

They are repeating the same maneuvers as Tito in Yugoslavia and the Lublinites in Poland.

Another part of the opposition leader's address also deeply concerns us. It was the denunciation of a supra-governmental dictator in free England.

This political dictator is Harold J. Laski, known as well in America as a propagandist against our free enterprise system as he is in England.

About Iago Laski, Mr. Churchill asked Prime Minister Attlee:

"What precisely is Mr. Laski's authority with regard to all the statements he is making about our foreign policy and do his statements involve the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs? We know Mr. Laski as chairman of the Labor Party Executive, which has the right to order their own party as they wish to do.

"I have been told that it has the power to summon ministers before it. Evidently Mr. Laski has great power and evidently he is keen to assert it. The House and the country are entitled to know WHO ARE THE SPOKESMEN OF THE GOVERNMENT."

YOU SEE HOW nearly the British Labor Party is approaching the Russian Red pattern.

First a revolutionary party controls the government.

Then there rises behind the party—like a hidden Lenin or Stalin—the maker of "policies" whose word is law.

Laski, as Churchill has pointed out, has already laid down the law for Prime Minister Attlee about France and Greece.

Mr. Churchill declares that not only should France and Greece be allowed to choose their own form of government at free elections but so should all the countries in Europe that Russia has blacked out.

Meanwhile what Russia is doing in Europe and China and what the portent of a Laski political dictatorship means in England may spell WAR, as Mr. Churchill intimates.

A BOSTONIAN wants my views on palmistry and numerology. He asks if an interest in these subjects is "a reflection on a person's intelligence." I don't know much about the subjects mentioned but can say many highly intelligent persons have been interested in them. Perhaps the greatest of the modern palmists and numerologists was Cheiro, who numbered among his clients such people as Mark Twain, King Edward the Seventh, Lily Langtry and Gladstone. In his autobiography, Mark Twain mentioned some of Cheiro's remarkable predictions. It is a matter of record that Cheiro predicted King Edward the Seventh would die in his 69th year. In fact, His Majesty once referred to Cheiro as "the man who says I won't live more than 69 years." Edward the Seventh died in 1910, his 69th year.

THAT DOG AGAIN: When the end of the war was announced in our vicinity the noise was naturally terrific, whistles, horns, firecrackers, etc. Our pup, which had been sleeping, jumped up and cocked his head to one side, which is his way of asking: "What's going on?" or "What's cookin'?" I said: "The war's over!" Well, sir, you can credit it or otherwise, but he started barking and running wildly about, only pausing now and then to wag his tail. A remarkable animal.

ASKING: Queries from clients. A—Has there ever been a successful heavyweight boxer born in Scotland? A—Offhand I can't think of one. I asked an old-timer and he said there was once a fair heavyweight named Tom Forrest who was born in Scotland. Q—Why do you continue to make the ridiculous statement that there are dentists who can extract teeth, treat them and then replace them in the patient's mouth? My dentist says it is impossible. A—I wouldn't characterize what I said as "a statement." I merely reported what you mention had been done. In fact, it is now being successfully accomplished in St. Mary's Hospital, London, England.

HORSES AND WOMEN: It was La Rochefoucauld who said: "None laugh better and oftener than women with fine teeth." Keep that in mind, young fellow. If a young woman laughs at all your jokes it may not be entirely in appreciation of your sense of humor. She may be proud of her teeth. It also follows when a girl is continually smiling it doesn't always indicate she is unusually pleasant. She, too, may be just proud of her dental equipment.

Johnny Longden, the jockey, is going to be a harness horse driver when he quits riding the runners. Not a bad idea. A harness horse man can be the owner, trainer and driver of his noble animals. Some of the top harness horsemen are now making as high as a thousand dollars a week.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, by King Features Syndicate

NEW YORK, Aug. 20—President Truman has announced the end of the political truce between the Republicans and the Democrats and that goes to show what a smart fellow I ain't.

If you had asked me I would have said that his side had been making politics right along and that the propaganda from the Communist unions of the CIO, which I have been receiving, hasn't sounded nonpolitical to me. Nor neither has it seemed to me that the treatment of Adm. Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter Short, even under Mr. Truman's own presidency, has been nonpolitical.

Westbrook Pegler

On the contrary, my opinion has been that Mr. Truman has been covering up his late chief, Franklin D. Roosevelt, at the expense of two good American citizens who have publicly demanded a fair trial.

It may be remembered that on August 22, last year, Adm. Kimmel wrote Mr. Truman a letter in which he said: "Your innuendo that Gen. Short and I were not on speaking terms, is not true. Your statements alleging failure to cooperate and co-ordinate our efforts are equally false."

Adm. Kimmel is still in the United States Navy, on the retired list, and is subject to punishment for calling his Commander-in-Chief a liar unless he can prove his case. It is true that Mr. Truman was not President then, but the Admiral has not retracted a word of that letter so it still goes as to President Truman.

For more than two years, the Navy and War departments refused to try these men.

Meanwhile, unable to stand off the demand entirely, the departments, by order of Congress, held inquiries and vindicated Kimmel and Short to the extent of saying that they were charged with no offenses which would justify trials by courts-martial. Nevertheless, the departments suppressed the testimony, the evidence and the findings, and insisted that further investigations were necessary and were being made.

★ ★ ★

THESE MEN, under American law, are presumed to be innocent, but they were tried by a kangaroo court named by President Roosevelt soon after Pearl Harbor, and that court, designated a "committee," under the presidency of Owen J. Roberts, then a justice of the Supreme Court, since resigned, performed a service of great temporary advantage to Mr. Roosevelt, who was its client as well as its founder, and inflicted grievous wrong on the two officers.

It "convicted" them of "dereliction of duty" after assuring them that they were not on trial, as of course they could not be in that forum because it had no more standing than so many gossips in a saloon and no formal charges had been filed to which they could make answer.

"Dereliction of duty" meant to the American people, for a period of time, that Kimmel and Short were responsible for a disaster which cost 3000 immediately and God only knows how many more lives in the subsequent war to drive the Japs back from the positions which this preliminary stroke enabled them to seize.

★ ★ ★

A FORGOTTEN but extremely important item in this case is a press association dispatch from Boston on Nov. 24, 1941, 13 days before Pearl Harbor, in which Sen. Claude Pepper, of Florida, one of the most influential political sergeants of Mr. Roosevelt, was quoted as saying: "We are only waiting for Japan to cross a line before we start shooting. I do not know exactly where that line is and I am not sure the President knows where it is. But when they cross it we will start shooting. The actual declaration of war is a legal technicality and such technicalities are held in abeyance as long as those brigands continue in force."

In view of the intimacy between the President and Pepper at the time, the Japanese ambassador in Washington would have been derelict in his duty if he failed to advise his government that the United States apparently was planning to start a war with a sneak punch.

Kimmel and Short were not advised of any such intention and they were restricted, down to the last hour, by orders forbidding them to take any protective and precautionary measures beyond those of the No. 1 alert, which, in the words of the Roberts report, "is a defense against acts of sabotage and uprisings within the islands, with no threat from without."

The final warning that a break in relations with Japan might occur almost immediately did not arrive until after the attack.

President Truman has inherited a Dreyfus case whose victims may become martyrs to the politics of his party.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 20—Tom Mix' daughter, Thomasina, the apple of his eye, is in the movies. The little girl who at the age of nine used to ride by the side of the King of Cowboys on her own pony and later rode in the parade of Tom's circus on tour, has been signed by Samuel Goldwyn for a role in Danny Kaye's picture, "The Kid From Brooklyn."

Shirley Temple

Thomasina bears a striking resemblance to her dad, who in his heydey earned $5,000,000.

Her mother, Victoria Ford, was bedecked by Tom with jewels and given a fantastic mansion in which to live. Victoria is writing a book titled "My Ten Years on the Rock Pile," which, I will be willing to bet my last year's chapeau, will one day be sold to Sam for the movies.

When Victoria "queened" it over Tom's mansion he was earning $17,500 a week with nary income tax to worry about. Thomasina has fulfilled her father's hopes and graduated from college at 19.

★ ★ ★

AS I SAID all the time, Shirley Temple isn't waiting three years to marry Sgt. John Agar. She'll wed in two months—in October.

"I think its silly to wait now that the war is over. The only thing that worries me," she laughed, "are all those bets I made that I wouldn't marry for three years. I'll have to pay a fortune, but my mother and father have already given permission to marry as soon as I wish."

One of Shirley's schoolmates, Jane Lail, has already given her a shower, and just between us it wouldn't surprise me if Shirley married when her future bridegroom comes down from his Washington camp.

DON'T KNOW ANYONE who has been more snooty about his movie plays and his choice of stage dramas than Fredric March. He has the reputation of knowing exactly what he will and what he won't do. So Frank Orsatti is crossing his fingers to see if the movie script of "O. Henry" sent to New York will please him. 20th Century-Fox will produce the movie and if Fredric likes the script he will do "O. Henry" on the stage, just as he did "A Bell for Adano." Later "Bell" became one of 20th's most discussed movies. Whether Freddie will do the film is anyone's guess.

THE DAY the good news was flashed that the war was ended, Evelyn Anker's mother received two letters from her son, Capt. Derek Anker. For 11 long months she hadn't heard a word from him, and both his sister and his mother gave him up as lost. He had been with Lord Louis Montbatten's army, fighting through Burma. No letters had gotten through. Perhaps there are other mothers who haven't heard from their sons who might like to hear of Mrs. Anker's experience. She told me Derek found nine pages of "The Gay Illiterate" torn from one of my books, and he asked her to please send him a copy of the book. He's been decorated and his mother is thankful his march on to Japan has been stopped by peace.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Have learned that June Lang, former picture actress, lost her baby the same day Lynn Bari's little one died at birth. The girls have been in rooms next to each other at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica. Curiously enough, Dr. Blake Watson, June's doctor, tells me both babies had the same thing, congenital heart ailment. June's husband is Capt. William Morgan. She's been out of pictures for a long time, but I always thought she was one of the prettiest girls I had ever seen. Sad she and Lynn lost their babies.

The Army is doing its utmost to arrange for Marlene Dietrich to see her mother in Berlin. Marlene told me no American civilian was allowed in Berlin before the Potsdam conference and then she was sent home with an infected tooth. "I know my mother is all right," she told me, "because the Army was very kind and brought me reports. I mean she is all right insofar as health is concerned. Every cent she had in the world was taken from her. It could have been worse because I know how bitter they were against my activities with the Allies, but I haven't seen my mother for nearly eight years and haven't heard from her for six." The first word Marlene received about her mother came through Army channels.

WHEN THE NEWSPAPERS came out saying Mrs. Smith had sued Charlie Smith of RKO for divorce, naming June Duprez, he had not been served, although he said he would be where they could reach him. June, who says she never went anywhere with Smith until after he left home (he and his wife have been separated a year) consulted a lawyer and will fight to clear her name. "I must do it," she told me, "If I had come between the Smiths it would be different, but Mr. Smith had left his home and parted from his wife before he and I ever went anywhere together."

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: In five weeks' time the stork will pay his second visit to the homes of Cecelia Parker and Mrs. Noah Beery, Jr.; Joan Blondell acted as temporary peacemaker and brought her sister, Gloria, and her ex-husband, Cubby Brocolli, together. It was Gloria's birthday and the three had dinner together, but all denied it was more than a family gesture; little Johnnie Joyce will be a Papa soon. That will make Charlie Morrison a grandpa, and Dora, his wife, a grandma. Johnnie's only 19 and is in the Army. His wife was formerly Dolly de Wolfe; had dinner with Jimmy Walker. He left for New York Saturday with his two children. Amazing how young he looks and how amusing and attractive he is; Eddie Mannix is going to the South Pacific in about ten days on special business; Barbara Hutton has been seeing a great deal of socialite Capt. John Rogers, but I understand Phil Reed is still head man; Johnny Weissmuller will not fight his wife's divorce, but will fight the alimony. She is asking $250,000 and he says he only makes $50,000 a year in the "Tarzan" series. John's still trying to talk her out of the divorce; Mary Martin and Dick Halliday trained in Saturday without a place to set their luggage, but they're hoteled temporarily now; Maureen O'Hara, who has never had a birthday party, got the kick of her life out of the birthday cake and trimmings the girls in 20th's wardrobe department tossed for her between fittings for "Centennial Summer." Will Price's gift was a set of stunning amethyst earrings. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

YOU WOULD THINK HOLLYWOOD could make at least one racetrack picture which would have enough verisimilitude to carry some conviction among persons who know something about horse-racing and its mechanics . . . "Salty O'Rourke" was praised far and wide as just such a picture . . . But it asks you to believe that a disbarred jockey can return to racing under forged credentials . . . That the jock, 22 years old and a son of a famous race rider, presumably, who was killed at Belmont, could return to a major track and ride the winner in a $50,000 race in the guise of his 17-year-old brother.

IT ASKS you to believe that the jockey would tuck two $1000 bills in his riding boot, the numerals on the bills showing above his boots . . . To believe that the jockey, after appearing in the winner's circle after winning the big race, could run from the track without weighing out (the race meantime becoming official because the plot shows that the owner has collected both the purse and a large bet) . . . That the jockey could be chased in and around and over and under acres and acres of parked automobiles by a man who shot and killed him without an audience although the feature race of the day, the seventh event, had been completed . . . (Watch some time the number of patrons who rush for exits as soon as a $50,000 race is finished.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 — Mr. Raymond C. Schindler, the distinguished flatfoot, or detective, was in town the other day on a clue. Mr. Schindler is practically always on a clue; in fact when he is off one he feels sort of naked.

R. C. Schindler

Being steeped in mystery Mr. Schindler declined to divulge the nature of the clue, except that it had something to do with a homicide, which is flatfootese for somebody having gotten knocked off. When asked if it had any connection with the murder of Sir Harry Oakes, down in Nassau, which Mr. Schindler spent months investigating, he turned an impassive kisser.

Mr. Schindler is very adept at turning an impassive kisser. He once turned one at 60 miles an hour on two wheels without skidding.

Unable to dig any current dirt out of the great Hawkshaw, I asked him what he thought the future held for America.

"I think we will get back to normal very quickly," he replied. "I think this will prove particularly true in your racket, meaning the newspaper business. People are tired of reading war news. There will be a terrific demand for news of normal things."

I asked Mr. Schindler what he meant by "normal things" and he replied, "Murder."

"Humph!" I said, "very normal!"

"It is so normal," retorted Mr. Schindler, "There is nothing in the world more normal than for people to be interested in murder mysteries. It is as normal as wishing to question a baseball umpire's decision by conking him with a pop bottle."

I told Mr. Schindler I hoped he would not get too normal in my presence because my noggin bruises easily, but he continued:

"During the war the newspapers said they could not give the space to murder investigations, no matter how fascinating. The readers probably did not realize it, but they were missing something. In their lives, being normal, they yearned for mystery, romance, and maybe a touch of violence, such as a beautiful girl being found shot to death in a locked boudoir in which there was no ostensible means of entrance or escape."

"That sort of interests me, too," I said. "What is the name of the murdered doll and who done it?"

"I am talking about a hypothetical case," said Mr. Schindler. "I do not have any cases of murdered dolls on my list right now. What I am trying to get at is that interest in these matters is normal. Everyone thinks he is a great detective at heart and wants himself into a murder investigation.

"Most people also feel they are psychic. You know what psychic means, don't you?"

"Certainly do." I shouted. "Do you think I was a police reporter for 20 years for nothing? A psychic is a detective's partner. Like one detective will introduce you to another detective and say 'You know Joe here, don't you?—he's my psychic.'"

"You're a wisenheimer," snapped Mr. Schindler. "Anyway, I am hoping we will quickly get back to normal. I need the business."

★ ★ ★

INCIDENTALLY, Mr. Schindler is currently quite put out with a certain malefactor. He considers the felon is overdoing audacity.

Among Mr. Schindler's accounts is a Class A hotel in New York. Over the cashier's window is a sign: "Protected by the Schindler Bureau of Investigation."

Mr. Schindler should be well known about the hotel. He personally hired and installed its house dicks. He had every reason to believe his face and form were as familiar as the attitude of some of the bellboys.

Recently Mr. Schindler went to California on a case. While absent, his office was notified by the hotel that the check he had presented for food, room rent, and incidentals, had bounced.

Mr. Schindler's brother, Walter, said "the thing was ridiculous because Raymond was on the coast."

"No he isn't," said the hotel management. "He has been living here and has just stuck us with a phony $700 check. He not only charged all his food and room but he induced us to advance him cash as well."

It turned out that a phony had walked right into Mr. Schindler's protected hotel and posed all over the place as the master. And to make it worse he had checked out— and repeated the same thing at a hotel near by.

★ ★ ★

MR. SCHINDLER remarked about an item which appeared in a gossip column that Col. Serge Obolensky, born a Russian prince, had conferred in Hollywood with "Prince" Mike Romanoff about going partners in opening a restaurant in Washington.

"I happened to be present with Col. Obolensky," said Mr. Schindler, "and I wouldn't exactly say they 'conferred.'

"Mike Romanoff came to our table and said he had a great idea for a cafe partnership. 'We will call it Obolensky & Romanoff,' he said. 'That will get the customers.'

"But Obolensky laughed right in his face. All he said was 'I just came here to have a look at you. You're the guy who used to go around Paris impersonating me.'"

Double Vision

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 20 (AP)—German officials probably thought they were seeing double when the 20-year-old Bellia twins, Robert and Linford, were taken prisoner and placed in the same stalag.

Army authorities here said that when the twins were taken to the commandant at the prison camp, German officials blinked and exclaimed:

"Gott in Himmel."

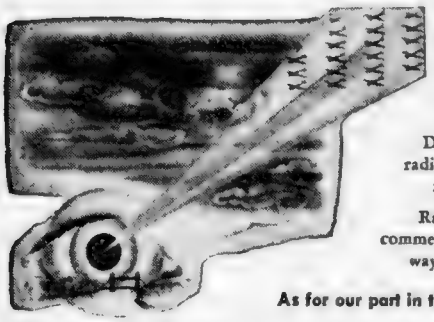
RCA's role in the development of RADAR

. . . mankind's new "sixth sense"



The story of Radar—the magic beam that enabled the United States Navy to sink a Jap battleship eight miles away at night : : : that helped save England in her darkest hours by detecting enemy planes : : : that automatically aims guns and detects submarines : : : this whole story is now officially released.

RCA takes this opportunity to congratulate the Office of Scientific Research and Development, the Army and Navy research laboratories and all other elements of the radio industry for their splendid work in so perfecting Radar that it became one of our most powerful weapons in winning the war.

Radar's contributions in peacetime will be equally as great : : : in making private and commercial flying even safer : : : in detecting obstacles at sea : : : and in hundreds of other ways yet to be discovered.

As for our part in this great effort, we here list the major developments in Radar made by RCA

1932—RCA Laboratories originated micro-wave equipment, which later was used in successful radar experiments.

1934—Echoes were obtained with micro-wave equipment set up near Sandy Hook. This experiment showed for the first time the potentialities of micro-wave radar.

1935—An experimental micro-wave pulse radar system was developed by RCA Laboratories. It was demonstrated to the Army and Navy in 1936.

1936—A lower frequency high power radar was supplied to the Army by RCA.

1937—RCA micro-wave radar was used to scan the Philadelphia skyline with cathode ray indication essentially the same used in today's newest radar sets.

1937—RCA developed an airborne pulse radar. This equipment operated very satisfactorily for detecting obstacles such as mountains, and was also invaluable as an altimeter. It was demonstrated to the Army and Navy in 1937, and at their request was classified as "secret."

1938—RCA started development of a practical altimeter employing FM principles. This and the RCA pulse altimeter later became standard equipment for the Army, Navy, and the British. A large quantity of altimeters of these types have been manufactured for controlling the height of paratroop planes at the time of jumping, for use in bombing enemy ships, and for other military purposes.

1938-9—RCA Victor manufactured the first radar equipment purchased by the Navy.

1939-40—Twenty high-power sets, based on the Navy's design, were developed and installed by RCA Victor in the Navy's important vessels.

1940—RCA developed and built radar apparatus which was especially suited for use on destroyers, and apparatus designed especially for submarines. These equipments were among the earliest procured by the Navy, and have proved very successful.

1940—Experience in the manufacture of vacuum tubes made it possible for RCA Victor to be the first and only manufacturer in the United States to produce a radar tube developed in England. RCA also produces many other types of radar tubes, including the cathode ray tubes of which RCA is largest manufacturer in the world. RCA's unchallenged leadership in cathode ray tubes for radar was made possible by extensive developments in television, since television, too, requires high quality cathode ray tubes.

1941—RCA Victor supplied receivers and indicators for the type of radar then used by the Army.

1942—Loran, a system of long-range navigation, was manufactured by several firms, but difficulties were encountered because of size and weight of the receiver. In 1942 RCA Laboratories undertook the design of a simplified, compact receiver, and achieved such success that large quantities were ordered from RCA Victor and from other firms instructed in RCA's design, and other types were discontinued.

• • •

Some of RCA developments, are of major importance in developments of other concerns engaged in radar manufacture.

RCA gave complete design and instruction to other firms in altimeters, tail warning devices, bombing devices, tubes, Loran receivers and other radar equipment designed and developed by RCA.

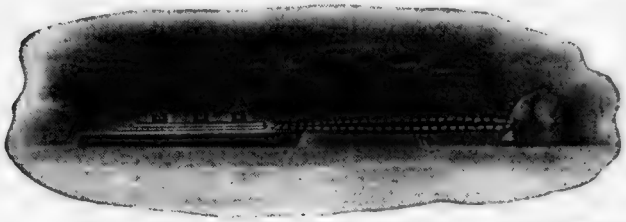
Several hundred RCA specialists were abroad during the war servicing radar and communication services for Army and Navy equipment made by RCA and other firms.

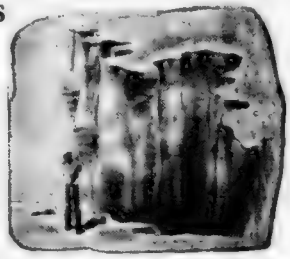
RCA was represented on the National Defense Research Committee and on other government technical committees on war activities.

RCA engineers have been loaned to government laboratories for special radar projects.

RCA has co-operated with England in radar projects.

How RADAR works





The boy, who yoo-hoos at a cliff and hears the echo, is in effect illustrating the radar principle. The sound strikes an object and is reflected. Radio also has echoes. But, of course, radio travels much faster than sound; it travels at the speed of light, 186,000 miles a second. Knowing the speed of sound and light, also the time elapsed before the echo is heard, distance can be measured. For instance, knowing the velocity of the radio wave, and by recording the time required for the echo to come back, the distance to the object that reflected the signal can be determined.

Radishes, Spinach, Lettuce Can Be Planted This Week

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head, Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Boston Record-American Sunday Advertiser Demonstration Garden on Boston Common.

For most gardeners, this week marks the end of the planting season. There are only about 50 to 60 days of growing weather left even for the late crops such as radishes and spinach.

Because of weather conditions, some gardeners did not have much luck with early radishes, lettuce and spinach. It will be worthwhile trying some again for fall.

If successful, you will have some fine greens and vegetables for those late fall salads.

Using our demonstration garden as a guide to planting you will note that within the past week we have cleaned up such early crops as beans, beets, carrots, and have replanted with late crops. The crops we have are beets, endive, purple top turnip and kale.

If your first planting of Swiss chard is poor, a short row of this planted now may not grow large, but the quality of the greens produced will be better. To grow these crops and get them through our gardeners must realize that the land must be well fertilized and not allowed to dry out. Every day of growing weather must be used to advantage, but this is what produces high quality products.

In spite of the fact that canned goods have been removed from the ration list the canning program should be continued. Grocers already have warned consumers not to buy too heavily as stocks are limited. It will take another growing season to get the general food situation straightened out. Citrus fruits will continue scarce and canned tomatoes will go a long way as a substitute be largely American, backed by American air forces and Adm. Halsey's mighty Third Fleet off Japan.

Japan

A headquarters spokesman said for the present a "technical state of truce" exists. No formal surrender will be signed before the American entry.

Hirohito's 16 surrender emissaries to Manila returned to Tokyo by air, carrying 24 or 25 pages of detailed documents on what should be done to prepare for the occupation.

During the entire session, MacArthur was coldly aloof and never met the Japs.

At the end of today's session Lt. Gen. Richard E. Sutherland, MacArthur's chief of staff, and the remainder of the American delegation rose. Then the Japanese stood up.

"I appreciate your cooperation and wish you a safe journey home," Sutherland said.

Somber-faced Kawabe replied: "I deeply appreciate the many kindnesses you have shown. I feel them sincerely."

The entire procedure for ending the Pacific war, from Japan's surrender offer through the series of MacArthur-Jap radiocasts and the Manila conference has been in the nature of wartime pathfinding. The procedures followed had no precedent.

However, confidence prevailed that the occupation of an uninvaded but beaten country will be successful though perhaps not without incident.

MacArthur and a large number of headquarters officials were expected to fly within a few days to Japan.

Air officials at the Manila conference went into considerable detail on the condition of airfields around Tokyo. Results of their questioning were not disclosed, but their quest undoubtedly was to find fields in good enough shape to accommodate heavy American planes.

The official statement regarding surrender preliminaries follow:

"The Japanese emissaries have reported to general headquarters. They imparted all information required and instructions of the United Nations are being conveyed by them to the government of Japan and to Japanese Imperial headquarters in my capacity as supreme commander for the Allied powers I shall soon proceed to Japan with accompanying forces composed of ground, naval and air elements. Subject to weather that will permit landings, it is anticipated that the instrument of surrender will be signed within ten days.

"At that time, having accepted the general surrender of Jap armed forces for the United States, Chinese Republic, United Kingdom and Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, and in the interest of other United Nations at war with Japan, I shall direct Japanese imperial headquarters to issue general orders which will instruct Japanese commanders wherever situated to surrender unconditionally themselves and all of the forces under their control to the appropriate theater commander.

"Responsibility for that portion of the southwest Pacific area which lies south of the Philippines will be assumed by British and Australian commanders.

"It is my earnest hope that pending the formal accomplishment of the instrument of surrender armistice conditions may prevail on every front and that a bloodless surrender may be effectuated."

Tomato Aspic Goes Well With Many Types of Food

By MARTHA LEE

TOMATO ASPIC is really an amiable food, if one can speak of it that way. The foundation recipe will adapt itself to molds of various shapes, and the flavor of the aspic blends pleasingly with different types of foods.

For instance, feature the tomato aspic with fruits, fish, or vegetables. Combinations of them might be used, too. For suggestions, try preparing some of the aspic in little individual ring molds, then filling the center with cottage cheese, and serve it on lettuce with slices of avocado or honeydew melon. Either canned or raw grapefruit goes well with this combination.

Make some of the aspic in a custard cup mold and serve it on watercress with canned shrimp. The peppery taste of the watercress is a good complement to that of the aspic and shrimp.

Tomato aspic molded in a pan and cut into squares makes a contrast in shape to serve with spears of canned asparagus. This might be served on the feathery chicory.

TOMATO ASPIC

1 tbsp. unflavored gelatin
2 cups canned tomato juice
½ tsp. celery salt
2 tbsp. grated onion
1 tsp. sugar 2 tbsp. vinegar
½ tsp. dry mustard

Soak gelatin in a half cup of tomato juice for 5 minutes. Heat remaining ingredients to boiling. Remove from heat and add the softened gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Pour into any desired shape of mold. Chill until firm. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SHRIMP TOMATO ASPIC

2½ cups canned tomatoes
½ tsp. salt
Stalk celery, cut up
Dash cayenne pepper
1 tbsp. unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 tbsp. vinegar or lemon juice
1 tbsp. minced onion
1 cup canned or fresh cooked shrimp
Lettuce Mayonnaise

Combine first four ingredients; boil 10 minutes. Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes; add to hot mixture with vinegar; stir until dissolved. Strain, add onion and shrimp from which black vein has been removed. Pour into 6 small wet molds, and chill. When firm, unmold on lettuce; garnish with mayonnaise. Makes 6 servings.

OLD-FASHIONED FRENCH DRESSING

½ cup sugar ½ tsp. salt
1 cup water ½ cup vinegar
½ cup lemon juice
2 tsp. celery salt
½ tsp. white pepper
2 cups olive oil or other salad oil
1 cup ketchup
1 large onion, grated

Boil sugar and water 10 minutes, add lemon juice and boil five minutes longer; cool. Mix together salts and pepper, and stir in vinegar. Add oil, ketchup, onion and cold syrup, and beat until thick. Always shake thoroughly to emulsify before using. Makes one quart dressing.

MAYONNAISE

1 egg yolk Dash of cayenne
1 tsp. salt 2 tbsp. vinegar or lemon juice
½ tsp. dry mustard
¼ tsp. paprika
1 cup salad oil

Put egg yolk and seasonings into small bowl and beat thoroughly; add 1 tbsp. vinegar and beat again. Beat in oil gradually, adding ½ tsp. at a time until ¼ cup is used; then add 1 to 2 tbsp. at a time. As mixture thickens, add remaining vinegar. If oil is added too rapidly, mayonnaise will curdle. To remedy this, at once beat curdled mixture gradually into a second egg yolk and continue as above. Keep mayonnaise in a moderately cold place. Too much heat or freezing will cause oil to separate and come to the top; if this happens, skim oil off. Serve mayonnaise with all types of salads. Makes 1¼ cups.

Fashion

YOU MAY not be a diplomat or a diplomat's wife . . . but here's a little number that from all advance notices promises to be a most popular eye-catcher. This is Anthony Blotta's famed diplomat suit in its 1945 edition . . . a three-quarter fitted coat of gray and white imported wool edged with black braid. The skirt is black wool . . . and the contrast couldn't be more stunning . . . especially when accessorized with black.—R. M.

Memorial to Baby

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN, Recently my infant daughter died, and the minister was very kind to my husband and me. Do you think it would be proper for us to give him a gift of money to be used for some needy child in the parish? I would also like to know if I should write the minister a thank-you note for his goodness to us.—C. R.

This is a beautiful and tenderly generous plan you and your husband have in your hearts, and the minister will be deeply touched by this sweet memorial to your child who has "gone before." Your note to the minister should have a two-fold intention: to thank him for his kindly understanding and thoughtful service to you, and to ask him if he will please pass on the enclosed money to the service of some needy child in the parish, as a loving memorial to your child.

Beauty

Oil Blend Softens Skin

WHEREVER you may be . . . on the beach or at home . . . replenish the tapped out natural oils of your skin with a perfectly wonderful replenishing dove-skin oil that is the blend of 16 herbal oils . . . and the answer to a thirsty skin. If you've taken your sun straight . . . counteract its drying-out effect by taking this choice cosmetic.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

THIS IS THE TIME of the year when the skin gets really thirsty. Its natural oils have been tapped out by the broiling propensities of the sun . . . and while a healthy-looking suntan is your dividend . . . too often the texture of the complexion is far from the desired down-softness. During the cold-weather months we yearn for the sun and its heart-warming goodness . . . we feel we'll never get enough of it when summer rolls along.

But then . . . right about now . . . at the peak of summer . . . we realize that the complexion has had just about enough and it needs a quenching of the sun's rays. The skin is on the verge of dryness unless it is fed daily its well-needed dose of oil.

This little cosmetic wonder is a careful blend of 16 herbal oils . . . which has been known to do some pretty smart things in softening the skin. You can use it with or in place of your regular night cream. You should use it around the eyes . . . on the throat . . . and around the mouth . . . as well as all over the face. Your skin needs to take its oil straight.

WILL QUENCH ANY SKIN THIRST

Those special areas take a terrific beating from the constant drying-out process of the heat and sun . . . and if your mirror tells you you have a few more lines now than you had at the outset of the summer . . . you better get busy with this choice product and feed it to your skin.

The special softening concentrated powers of this oil will quench any skin thirst . . . replenish the dried out natural oils . . . and reinvigorate the skin with a new radiance that will start you on high for the new season. Perhaps you didn't take your beauty business seriously during the war era. But, now, it is requisite that you do for your face everything within your power . . . for the competition is going to be mighty keen when most of the lads come home.

For the name of the 16-herbal oil blend for skin softening, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Told Wife Truth; Punished

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX—We've been married five years and have two wonderful children who adore us both. A few weeks ago my wife accused me of having an affair, and wanting to be honest with her, and also so it would never come between us again, I admitted I had, but that it was several months ago and would never happen again. I realize now it was a mistake to tell her, as she was deeply hurt and said she no longer loves me and is going to get a divorce.

I've begged and pleaded with her to forgive me and not break up our home, especially for the children's sake. I'm very much in love with her and the thought of losing her has made me so wretched I can't eat or sleep and have lost several days from work. I've always had my salary check sent directly to her, and have provided a nice car for her, to take the children to the park, etc. But she just feels she can never trust me again. What shall I do?

B. J. K.

It's plain to see your wife puts no premium on honesty. Instead of being thankful you were courageous and truthful enough to confess what you did, she penalizes you.

If she is serious in her threats, she is likely to pay the full price for her folly. Alimony is difficult to collect these days, and owing to the war, men are increasingly scarce.

The fact that you're sorry you told your wife will have the tendency to make you less truthful in dealing with her in the future. I cannot believe she would be so lacking in judgment as to put into effect her threatened plan. The best of luck to you for a reconciliation.

New Glamor in Suits

By BETTINA BEDWELL

GREER GARSON being completely feminine isn't just what the people who talk about it mean when they say "the suit type." For that you're supposed to be built much more on a straight up and down pattern. But Irene, MGM's famed designer, shows how Miss Garson can look wonderful in a suit and so could you.

Irene has designed the suit in our sketch for Greer Garson to wear. It has easy slim lines and the jacket is not cluttered up with a collar and lapels. It has loose sleeves and is made of gray and white striped wool, made very intricate and interesting by broken bands of plain gray set in lines to lengthen the silhouette.

The slim skirt is plain gray wool with slits at the side hem.

That that atomic bomb must have been even worse than described by the government releases, coz it seems to me the Japs still had a lot ov squirming left in 'em before the new weapon wuz let looze. Readin' from the current headlines, it's obvious Hirohito's boys and girls are still trying to wriggle out ov everything they got themselves into. Whitch goes to show them that when you're in military kindergarten t'aint wise to take on cum laude post grads . . . Amongst the 6,786,446 (unofficial count) who predicted that the Japs would give up last week, wuz yers trooly. Ain't I wunderful? . . . Well, fokes, now that it's all over let's hope we all live to a ripe old age but never see another war. But in the meantime let's start makin' preparations fer welcoming back the boys, and remember that each ov 'em left a job and a home and a lot of life's pleasures to do a nasty job that wuz as much ours as theirs, and keep in mind that they're entitled to get back everything they left, and then some! As fer me, I'd a loved to split sum oriental anatomies with a trusty bayonet, but age and nature had demoted me to jess another homefronter, buyin' bonds and keepin' the home fires burnin . . . 2 Puppet Chiefs Die in China

By the Associated Press

The Japanese Domei Agency today reported Gen. Hsiao Chu-Hsuan, war minister of the Jap puppet government at Nanking, died yesterday.

His death followed by two days that of Chen Chun, president of the examination yuan of the Nanking puppet government, reported yesterday. In neither case was the cause of death disclosed.

The 53-year-old Gen. Hsiao was a graduate of the military staff college in Japan and had held important government posts before becoming war minister in 1943.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—I have been honorably discharged from the Navy and would like to know where I can get an honorable discharge button. At the time of my enlistment I was living in Fall River, but now reside in Rhode Island. Would like to know if State of Massachusetts is awarding a bonus to World War II vets, and where do I write? R. K., Providence.

A—Buttons are available at Fargo Barracks, Naval Receiving Station, Summer st., South Boston; also may be obtained at Newport, R. I. Regarding bonus, if you lived in Massachusetts for a period of six months prior to enlistment, and such was credited to this state, you are considered eligible. Write Bonus Div., State Treasurer's Office, 15 Ashburton pl., Boston, Mass., for application.

Q—I haven't heard from my son in more than 11 months. He was attached to the 2d Armored Div., and was wounded. According to word received, he was awarded the Purple Heart and was sending it home to me. I'm terribly worried because of his failure to write and never received the medal. Whom should I contact? Mrs. D., West Newton.

A—Suggest you write immediately to Adjutant General's Office, [illegible] Branch, War Dept., Washington, D. C., giving full details. Also contact Home Service Branch, Newton Chapter, Red Cross, Austin st., Newtonville. They will assist you in obtaining official information.

Q—My husband enlisted in the Navy 10 years ago and is now over 30 years of age. What are his chances of discharge? He has three dependents. Mrs. B., Boston.

A—According to your data, your husband has a total of 61 points. Needed for discharge is a minimum of 44. Should apply for discharge.

Q—Can you tell me if any Italian prisoners of war, now in Boston, will be allowed to remain or must they go back to Italy? Will they be able to return here after being repatriated? C. T., Malden.

A—Will have to go back to their native land. In order to remain in the United States, must [illegible] established.

Q—Will you please inform me when the 26th Division is expected to return? L. N. T., Jamaica Plain.

A—For the benefit of readers who failed to see the story regarding the 26th Division it is scheduled to return in October.

The Veterans' Friend column has been deluged with letters from readers interested in return dates of individual units from the European theater. The War Dept. does not furnish detailed information on the sailing of specified detachments. Only full division schedules are released.

On another page of this newspaper is published under the heading "The Boys Come Back" detailed information of expected arrivals at various ports of individual outfits. This information is released only a few days prior to debarkation. It would be impossible to answer many of these letters in that short space of time.

SHUBERT — "MR. STRAUSS GOES TO BOSTON," new musical based on the visit of the "Waltz King" to Boston in 1872. Produced by Felix Brentano with music by Robert Stoltz, settings by Stewart Chaney and costumes by Walter Florell, George Rigaud plays the title role, with a supporting cast headed by Virginia MacWatters, Ralph Dumke and Ruth Matteson.

COLONIAL—"ZIEGFELD FOLLIES," M-G-M's spectacular Technicolor with William Powell as the late Flo Ziegfeld and members of the old Follies including Fannie Brice, Fred Astaire and Victor Moore, dazzling array of beautiful damsels, plus Judy Garland, Gene Kelly, Lena Horne, James Melton, Kathryn Grayson and many others.

August 27

COLONIAL "LIFE WITH FATHER," with Carl Benton Reid and Betty Linley as Father and Mother Day. The comedy is now in its 7th year on Broadway.

PLYMOUTH "TEN LITTLE INDIANS," Agatha Christie's mystery play in its first Boston presentation after a long Broadway run, with most of the original cast including Michael Whelan and Beverly Roberts.

August 28

WILBUR—"DEVILS GALORE," a new comedy by Eugene Vale to be produced by William Cahn and directed by Robert Perry, erstwhile director at the Cambridge Summer Theater and of the Broadway success, "Dark of the Moon." Ernest Cossart, Rex O'Malley, Jimmy Elliott and Tony Eden head the cast.

September 7

OPERA HOUSE—SAN CARLO OPERA CO. Fortune Gallo presents his opera company in its annual national tour for a ten-day Boston engagement, with Mary Henderson and several former Metropolitan Opera singers.

September 10

PLYMOUTH—"THERESE," with Eva LeGallienne, Victor Jory and Dame May Whitty, with Margaret Webster directing. The Theater Guild will present it for the first time.

WILBUR—"EMILY," a new psychological drama by John Collen and Robert Harris, starring Simone Simon of the cinema. Albert de Courville is the director. Theater may be changed.

"Carib Song," the new musical starring Katherine Dunham, has been booked into the Shubert Theater, Boston, beginning Tuesday evening, Sept. 4, and comes to this city immediately prior to its Broadway opening.

Hit's Final Week

This is the second and final week of the engagement of Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer's magnificent technicolor production of "Ziegfeld Follies" at the Colonial Theater. The engagement has been limited to two weeks only with two performances each day at 2:30 and 8:30 and an extra show for next Sunday, Aug. 26, at 6 p. m.

Rarely in motion picture history has the screen offered such a distinguished array of screen luminaries as are enlisted in this film, acclaimed as the most ambitious and costly undertaking ever employed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

All seats are reserved.

Things the War Censors Wouldn't Let Us Tell

By AUSTEN LAKE

I PROMISED MYSELF I'D write this story—sometime! Now it can be told! The Office of Censorship is dead. Now we old military hoboes who covered the combat news can reveal things the censors deleted with razor blades and blue pencils. On the whole they did a good job. Theirs was a thankless task. But, 'twixt them and us there was a deep, abiding resentment.

Austen Lake

I saw a man murdered—or so it seemed! For in those times it was hard to tell murder from military necessity. Perhaps this was a little of both! Yet I have never forgotten the horror of seeing a man shot like a clay pigeon on what seemed the whimsy of an officer. I can still see with photographic clarity, the huddled, motionless figure which lay in a German wheat field. Perhaps if I write the story I won't see it anymore.

The outposts of an armored infantry unit were lying in a waterditch outside the Rhine-town of Weissenthurm. The town itself, a short brassie shot away, was still in German hands, and beyond we could see the swift, turgid-green waters of the river and beyond that the German highlands, where Nazi artillery had, that morning, fired on our positions.

There Was a Man in Farm Clothes

I WAS WITH A WIRY-FRAMED, tough lieutenant named Lees, a man who talked with a perpetual grin. But it wasn't a grin so much as a spasmodic contraction of the muscles which drew the lips away from his teeth. For Lees was a legend. Incredible as it seems he had a Purple Heart with twelve clusters. His escapes were almost fictional! His merchandise was death!

So we lay behind a shallow embankment surveying the scene through binoculars, while Lees in his hard, sharp voice pointed out a Nazi gun emplacement his tank crews had knocked out that morning in a distant henyard. I was examining the scarred remains of the position when I heard a soldier say, "There's that same so-and-so mooching around again. He's been out there all day."

I trained my glasses on the foreground where there was a man in farm clothes, a big man in a tattered brown coat and blue denim trousers. He wore a vizored cap and held an empty pipe between his teeth. And he just wandered aimlessly around in short circles, kicking up clods and musing at his feet. There was no apparent purpose in his movements. He looked like a shaggy farmer on an enforced holiday who didn't know what to do with his leisure and so went out to examine his fields.

Lees studied the man for a moment and then rolled over on his side. He shouted to three tank gunners in our immediate rear, "Give that guy a burst of 50 calibres. Knock'm down. He's got no right out there."

The gunners didn't hurry! They slowly fed their ammo into the gun breeches! There was no enthusiasm when they let go, seeming purposely to fire wide of their mark, their tracers, like soaring orange balls, whizzing over the man's head and into a distant fringe of trees. The man didn't know he was being shot at. He heard the sharp staccato of the guns, but apparently decided they were trained on some other target.

So he continued to mooch in little circles, kicking the dry stubble and pausing with his back turned to study the scene. How he failed to miss the sight of those whizzing orange tracers will always be a mystery. Then suddenly he must have heard the sharp whine of a passing bullet, for he crouched on one knee to look over his shoulder. Through my glasses it was as though I could reach out and touch him—his slack mouth, his bushy brows over questioning eyes, his gnarled hands. My impulse was to shout "No! No!" to the gunners. But I didn't! As a correspondent it was not my business to interfere. Yet it seemed a wanton waste of life when a soldier could easily have walked out under our fire cover and hauled the creature in.

The Gunners Didn't Like It

THE GUNNERS STOPPED as the man slumped down on his hams. I believe that they had no taste for the grisly job. For killin the wild, nervous-frozen excitement of attack is one thing—and these veteran tankers had killed many times. But killing in cold blood was another! So they stopped.

I will never understand why the man didn't stay flat on his haunches—just stay down and play possum. But he didn't! Perhaps he was reassured by the short interval of silence! For presently he got up again and began his mysterious prowl, just watching his feet and walking in little circles. He seemed to have forgotten the firing, or imagined it was a mistake. He could have thrown up his hands and walked into our lines. But he didn't!

Lees snarled a sulphurous string and shouted to his gunners: "I told you to knock him down." His lips curled back in a habitual grin as he yelled, "This time give it to him." And this time the gunners did! They fired short staccato bursts that focused on the man in a fiery cone. There was no doubt about their intentions now! For these were men trained in a ferocious combat school where the prize was kill, or be killed.

Suddenly the man spun in a ghastly spin, clutching the empty air with his hands. Then slowly, like a spilled potato sack he collapsed to earth and lay still. There was no doubt! It was as though I stood beside him! I gazed with a horrid fascination. "That's the end of that," said Lees impersonally.

Was the man a plain, ignorant farmer, victim of his own blunt wit? Was he a Nazi artillery spotter bent on fanatical self-sacrifice? We never knew! But the strange denouement of the story was that Lees a week later was killed by a German bazooka, fired curiously enough by a German civilian. My witness to all this is Capt. Adrien Tessier of East Providence." Yet when I came to tell the tale, as one of the grisly components of warfare, the censors said, "We don't shoot civilians" and impounded my copy in their "Kill file." I hope I won't see that man any more in my dreams.

Cards Score in 1st; 5th

By BILL GRIMES

BRAVES FIELD, Aug. 20—Ed Wright for the Braves and Ken Burkhardt for the Cardinals, two right-handers, were the opposing pitchers in today's game here. Carden Gillenwater, the fast Braves centerfielder, was out of today's lineup with a bad leg and Bill Ramsey took his place.

Elmer Singleton, a rookie right-hand pitcher from Kansas City, reported to Manager Del Bissonette just before the start of today's game.

FIRST INNING

CARD—Rebel doubled. Schoendienst singled. Adams lined to Aderholt, Rebel scoring. Schoendienst was caught off first, Wright to Shupe. Kurowski fanned.—ONE RUN.

BRAVES—Wietelmann singled. Wietelmann stole second. Shupe fouled to Kurowski. Holmes fouled to Kurowski. Aderholt flied to Schoendienst.—NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

CARDS—Sanders grounded to Shupe and was safe when Wright drofped Shupe's throw at first. O'Dea flied to Aderholt. Verban flied to Aderholt. Wright tossed out Marion. NO RUNS.

BRAVES—Workman grounded to Verban. Ramsey flied to Adams. Masi also flied to Adams. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING

CARDS — Culler threw out Burkhardt. Rebel fouled to Masi. Wietelmann tossed out Schoendienst.—NO RUNS.

BRAVES — Culler singled. Wright sacrificed Burkhardt to Verban. Burkhardt threw out Wietelmann. Shupe flied to Adams.—NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING

CARDS—Adams singled. Kurowski bounced into a double play, Culler to Wietelmann to Shupe. Sanders flied to Ramsey. NO RUNS.

BRAVES—Verban tossed out Holmes. Aderholt was safe at first when Sanders fumbled his grounder. Workman grounded into a double play, Verban to Marion to Sanders. NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING

CARDS—O'Dea rolled to Shupe. Verban singled. Marion flied to Holmes. Burkhardt singled. Rebel singled, scoring Verban. Wietelmann threw out Schoendienst. ONE RUN.

BRAVES — Ramsey singled. Marion threw out Masi. Culler fanned. Wright lined to Rebel. NO RUNS.

The Braves could have taken both games yesterday, if they had played heads-up ball. Anytime a club gets 19 hits including a home run and two doubles and doesn't score more than four runs, there's something radically wrong somewhere. The Braves should have scored enough runs to have won in nine innings.

But, they allowed the Cardinals to carry them into extra innings and in the 13th an error by Vince Shupe and "Butch" Nieman's inability to find the handle on the ball, which allowed, Kay Saunders to score from first base on a two bagger, cost them the game.

The Braves will wind up their home stay tomorrow with a single game against the world's champions, before opening their final series in Philadelphia Thursday night, the Braves will play exhibition games at New London and Waterbury, Ct.

Earl Middleton, who is a member of the Chamber of Commerce of Ft. Laulerdale, Fla., where the Braves will train next spring, watched yesterday's twin bill. Although he was loud in his praise of Ft. Lauderdale, Middleton was not too enthusiastic about the ball field. However, he did state that the city was going to build a new park next year.

Mort Cooper left for St. Louis yesterday afternoon. He will undergo another operation for his elbow ailment tomorrow and expects to rejoin the Braves before the close of the season.

General Manager John J. Quinn finally contacted Elmer Singleton, whom the Braves recently purchased from the Yankees. Upon learning that he had been sold to the Braves, Singleton decided to pay a short visit to him home at Ogden, Utah. He left Salt Lake City yesterday by plane and is due here sometime this afternoon.

Big Bill Lee pitched a masterful game yesterday. He had his control and wasn't the least bit concerned that his mates didn't get him a comfortable lead to work on. When Big Bill joined the Braves, via the waiver route from the Blue Jays, his record was three wins against six defeats. He is now seven-seven, and as Del Bissonette's No. 1 hurler.

Linehan Club to Play Navy Yard

After battling and scrapping through two weeks of semi-final playoffs, the Navy Yard A. A. and the Linehan Club of South Boston emerged from the pack as the top challengers for the City of Boston Championship which series gets underway tonight at the American Legion Playground in East Boston.

The Sailors will probably throw their ace, Joe Callahan the former Braves chucker against the Linehans tonight in hopes that the former big leaguer can get them off on the right foot against the Southie club. Callahan personally escorted the Navy Yarders into the series last Friday night when he again performed fireman's duties to quench at Casey Club rally and assure a win for his club.

Meanwhile, the Linehans will counter with Joe Cunningham, their most persistent winner throughout the season.

Veterans' Fund Races At Raynham Thursday

By JACK CONWAY

GOV. MAURICE J. Tobin and the Massachusetts Racing Commission, consisting of Chairman Louis Hoffman and Commissioners Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., and Harry Allen, kept their promise to see that recognized charities shared in the profits of the dog tracks.

Charity racing at Russ Murray's Ranynham dog track this week will be highlighted by the Thursday night program which will be staged for the benefit of the Disabled Veterans' Fund of the American-Record-Sunday Advertiser.

Russ Murray

When the number of nights of dog racing were reduced in this State, Governor Tobin and the racing commission told this writer that extra dates would be awarded for charity . . . The Governor declared that he did not wish any recognized charity to lose a single penny of the revenue it had been getting from dog tracks each year . . . Louis Hoffman, speaking for the racing commission, made the same statement.

This writer then wrote an exclusive story in this newspaper stating that Raynham Park and the Tom Pappas-Joe Linsey-controlled Dighton track would each receive six extra nights of racing and that Wonderland Park would be granted 12 extra nights of racing for charity.

The Raynham and Dighton dates have already been awarded, while Wonderland Park will receive 12 extra nights . . . The Raynham dates should realize $150,000 for charity, while a similar amount should be raised at Dighton . . . With 12 nights for charity racing, Wonderland Park should raise more than $500,000.

Aid for Veterans

THE DISABLED Veterans Fund is one of the finest charities ever to be organized . . . It is one of the few charities to be conducted without any executive or personnel salaries . . . The officers of the fund and its representatives are employes of the Hearst Boston newspapers and they do not receive one penny for the services they render the fund.

The Sporting Department of this newspaper has helped to raise thousands of dollars for the Disabled Veterans Fund . . . This work has been of a volunteer nature and there has not been a charge of one cent for services . . . With a dozen members of the Sports Department in the armed services, members of this department have considered it a privilege to give many hours of their time without compensation to raise money for our disabled veterans . . . The same policy has existed in other departments of this newspaper . . . As a result, those men who have given so much for their country in the war have received the greatest possible benefits from the Disabled Veterans Fund.

There have been free telephone calls to home with special portable telephones being placed beside hospital beds . . . There have been cash gifts to every veteran in a New England Hospital at Christmas . . . There have been radios for hospitals, and other direct aid to veterans.

The public and the sports promoters have given 100 per cent aid . . . Otherwise it would have been impossible to have succeeded.

* * *

Raynham Charity Leader

RUSS MURRAY was a disabled veteran of World War I and he has appreciated the position of the men who have fought in this war . . . Last year Raynham Park gave $47,000 to the Disabled Veterans Fund . . . This year it will also make a big contribution.

The 101st Infantry Foundation, Murray's old pals of World War I, will have two nights of charity racing . . . There will be a night for the legion groups of Bristol County, and another night for the charity fund of Archbishop Richard J. Cushing.

There will also be jobs during the charity nights for many veterans who are trying to readjust themselves . . . Raynham has been a leader in giving job preference to veterans.

I have set aside Thursday night for a trip to Raynham Park . . . There will be spirited dog racing, and it will be pleasing to know that every dime of profit will be turned over to the Disabled Veterans Fund . . . A military program will give color to the gala occasion.

Hal Newhouser Shoots for 20th

DETROIT, Aug. 20 (AP)—Hal Newhouser, the Tigers' ace left-hander, gets his chance today to become the major leagues' first 20-game winner of the 1945 baseball season, and he isn't taking it lightly.

With four shutouts under his belt and one of the American League's lowest earned-run averages, Hal has won 19 games while losing only seven, and hasn't given up on the possibility of equaling his victory output of 1944, when he hurled 29 triumphs against nine defeats.

Nominated to pitch one game of today's Tiger twin bill against the last place Athletics, Newhouser is almost exactly even with his 1944 pace. He won his 20th game last season by shutting out the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 0, on Aug. 18 in Detroit's 113th game of the year, putting his record at 20-8.

"Without the burden of working relief like I did last year, I ought to have a chance to start 11 more times before the end of the year," the 24-year-old southpaw calculated. "Who knows, I might be lucky enough to win 29 again. I'll certainly be out there trying to win 'em all."

If the Detroit left-hander doesn't win the pitching championship and retain his "most valuable" player honor, he's a shoo-in at least for the strikeout crown.

Working in 241 innings so far, Newhouser has fanned 153 men—almost 50 more than his nearest rival in either big league. He led pitchers of the junior circuit last year with 187 and fanned 144 in 1943.

"Let's see, if I work 90 more innings I ought to have a good chance to get 200 strikeouts," Newhouser figured, "but who cares about that?

"It's wins we need to take the pennant and I'm out to get my share."

Army-Navy Game In Philly on Dec. 1

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—The annual Army-Navy football game will be played in Philadelphia's municipal stadium Dec. 1, Col. Biff Jones, graduate manager of athletics here, announced today.

The service classic was held at Annapolis in 1942 and at West Point in 1943 under a ruling permitting the teams to play only on "home" fields.

Ferriss Gets 3d Shot At No. 20 This Week

By HUCK FINNEGAN

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20—This has been a most trying trip for Dave Ferriss, as well as for Joe Cronin and the rest of the Sox. Where on the Sox last Western trip he won 4 games and lost none, on this trip Ferriss won two, lost two in five starts.

In fact his troubles started before the trip. He was beaten by the Senators and Yankees before he bagged his 18th victory in Washington, was beaten by the Tigers before he made No. 19 in Cleveland and has been beaten by the White Sox and chased from the box by the Browns on his way to No. 20. Has he lost the touch that made him a national sensation earlier in the season?

"He looks drawn to me," said Sgt. "Speed" Rehn who roomed with Ferriss a year and a half at Randolph Field. Rehn now stationed at nearby Scott Field, comes in to see Ferriss pitch every time the Sox visit St. Louis "He wasn't fast in Sunday's game with the Browns. His asthma is bothering him, even though he won't admit it. I can tell."

More correct, perhaps, is that Ferriss was pressing against the Browns. His mother, Mayor A. P. Latimer and some 30 other admirers made the 300-mile trip from Shaw Miss., to see him work. He wanted to win this one for them.

At that he came close, almost won it with his own bat. The Browns combed him for four hits and four runs in the first inning, and every one of the hits were solid. But after that he pitched quite well. The two runs Byrnes drove in in the seventh were set up by poor umpiring on the part of Mr. Boyer. So far out did Pete Gray look in that frame that Cronin was ejected for his stern protestations. And Camilli, who never beefs unless he's sure he's right, beefed as long as Cronin.

But Byrnes really tied into the ball that scored both runs, and so did Gutteridge and Gray in the ninth when Del Baker derricked Ferriss and sent in Ryba who won out 10-8 in the 13th. They weren't hitting Ferriss like that a month ago.

Ferriss did some fancy hitting to help himself. He singled home Camilli in the fifth. With three on he walked in the eighth. And in the ninth he again singled home Camilli with a run that gave the Sox an 8-6 lead. Yet, he couldn't hold it.

Thus victory No. 20 still is eluding him. Unless the Sox are rained out before Wednesday, he won't get a chance to make it on this trip. But if they are rained out he'll get his third chance at the magic work Thursday.

Cronin, Helfin, Garbark and Camilli visited Dr. Hyland today. Cronin had X-rays taken of his injured ankle. Heflin and Camilli have thumb injuries and Garbark is slowed down with neuritis . . . O'Neill (8-7) faces Tex Shirley in tonight's game. Twi-night double-headers Tuesday and Wednesday. How lovely. Woods, who pitched only two innings in the Sunday nightcap (Sox lost it 6-2) will come back later in the series. A poor throw to second by Metkovich set up the Browns three-run first. A good throw and the side would have been retired scoreless . . .

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

By Jimmy Hatlo

WELL, THERE HE IS. MY NEW GRANDSON, JUNIUS. SMART AS A WHIP, SHARP AS A RAZOR AND-AHEM-THE FUTURE HEAD OF THIS BUSINESS.
BET THE GALS SWOON FOR HIM JUST LIKE THEY DO FOR YOU. HEY, B.M.?
LISTEN TO THOSE APPLE POLISHERS LAY IT ON. JUNIUS LOOKS LIKE HE BELONGS IN A CAGE, INSTEAD OF A BASSINET.
FUTURE HEAD OF THE BUSINESS! WHY WAIT? THE KID COULD DO A BETTER JOB OF RUNNING IT RIGHT NOW THAN THE OLD MAN DOES.
CHIEF-HE'S A RINGER FOR YOU. THE SAME HIGH INTELLIGENT FOREHEAD, CLASSIC NOSE AND SOFT, BROWN EYES
OH BOSS! HE'S ADORABLE. POSITIVELY THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CHILD IVE EVER SEEN
HE'S GOT HANDSIES LIKE GRAMPAW, TOO. SQUEEZE A NICKEL UNTIL IT LOOKS LIKE A QUARTER.
SMEARING ON THE OLD SUCCOTASH, AS THE BOSS'S GRANDSON MAKES HIS DEBUT
Thanx to S. L. C., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

'Learn to Swim' At Carson Beach

Betty Jane Lynch of Pelham Manor, New York, will be among the starters in the invitation 100-meters freestyle event in the gala swimming carnival to be held next Sunday afternoon at Carson Beach, South Boston, by the Boston Park Department in conjunction with the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser 'Learn To Swim' campaign.

This special race has been added to a card that had already listed 15 tests including seven championship battles.

Women's matches will include the NEAAAU senior 100-meter freestyle; NEAAAU senior 100-meters backstroke; Mass. State 100-meters freestyle; 440-yards freestyle, open and 100-meters breaststroke, open. There'll also be 50-meters freestyle tests for girls 10-11 and 12-13 years of age, for the most part graduates of the 'Learn To Swim' program.

Manchester Loses But Still in Race

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 20 (AP)—The Trenton, N. J. entry in the eastern sectional series of the American Legion Junior Baseball tournament got away to a flying start yesterday by defeating the Sweeney Post host team, 7-0, and Baltimore 10-6.

The vanquished Manchester and Baltimore teams will clash here today and the winner will play Trenton again tomorrow. The new Jersey team needs a third victory to qualify for the tournament finals at Charlotte, N. C.

All Titles Will Be At Stake at Dilboys

Championships in all classes from bantamweight to heavyweight will be decided Wednesday night, Aug. 29, at Dilboy Field, Somerville, in the bi-weekly program of the George Dilboy Post, V. F. W., which will be staging the New England AAAU Junior fight competition.

Entries may be filed with Fred Russo, 371 Summer st., Somerville.
